Josephine White, 110, (NC) every day that she is able, Mrs. Annie White, 110 years old, walks to church for daily Mass. She also attends afternoon and evening services. It isn't an unusual feat for her to travel 100 miles in a week, and she has done so through blizzards, sub-zero cold and snow drifts. Frequently, she slides down a steep bank of snow on her way to church.

To Father Crowley On His Fortieth Anniversary

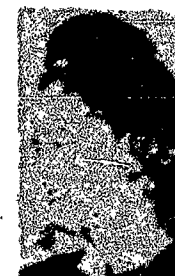

(This poem was read at the Annual Session of the St. Agnes School, Lyons.)

Looking ahead to forty years, Seems a lifetime to us I know, But to you it must seem like yesterday, That day so long ago, When you renounced all earthly joys, To be one of Christ's chosen ones, When you became a priest of God, And your boyhood dreams came true, Dreams you had, Dear Father, On that beautiful bright June day, When with loved ones around you gathered, Prostrate on God's altar you lay, As you repeated the sacred vows, Setting you from then on apart, You that for forty years have been, Cherished like gold in your heart, Many the crosses you've lightened, Many the souls you have saved, Many soldiers you have comforted, As their life for their country they gave, God there in some miracle for hold, From your consecrated hand, They received their Mother's Body, As they went into "His Holy Land," Your life has been most fruitful, Though joy has been mixed with tears, I know you could not change a second, Of the last forty years, Years to you like a Rosary, Each bead some labor of love, That you have done for others, In the name of Him above, When your footsteps are attired forever, And your earthly career is o'er, When your soul awaits its judgment, On bright and heavenly shores, Christ will press you to His bosom, As He whispers, "My Priestly Son, Enter into life everlasting, The reward for a job well done."

AMONG WOMEN The Devil's Entourage

By MARY LEMMON SNYDER

Why is it whenever a country announces that it is starting a five year plan for national improvement that one of first "improvements" will be the establishment of Birth Control Information Centers and clinics? As Catholics we know the answer—the Devil is around "Seeking whom he may devour" but we must admit that in the Devil's entourage are some very clever public relations officials. They never fail to put across the completely false notion that birth control and birth control, if not actually synonymous, are almost so.

On my right hand as I write this, is a booklet called "The Givers Guide to National Philanthropies, 1950-1951, published by the National Information Bureau, Inc., wherein are listed typical a credit agencies which meet the standards of the Bureau.

The following is quoted from the booklet: "Planned Parenthood Federation of America, Inc. (formerly Birth Control Federation of America) Program includes public education and establishment of clinics to demonstrate the health, economic

NEWS OF NEOPRENE

A new bathroom cabinet boasts a mirror that will stay clear even though the room becomes steamy from a hot shower or bath. An electric heating element covered with a layer of conductive neoprene keeps the glass just warm enough to prevent mist from forming on the surface. Neoprene, the chemical rubber made by Du Pont, was chosen to cover the heating unit because of its high resistance to deterioration from heat. The heating element can be turned off or on as needed.
"No-Fog" mirrored cabinets made by Charles Parker Company, Meriden, Conn.

GARDENERS WILL welcome a new electric lawn trimmer,

which promises to eliminate the back-breaking chore of hand-trimming grass around trees and shrubbery and along walks and walls. Sturdy, compact, and lightweight, the garden tool is equipped with a shatter-proof steel blade and powerful motor weighing only three pounds. Electric cord, hand-grips, washers, and motor mounts of the trimmer are all made of Du Pont's neoprene, selected because of its excellent resistance to sunlight, abrasion, and aging. "Trim Master, Jr." lawn trimmer made by E. F. Britten & Company, 22-26 South Avenue, West Concord, N. J.

MUCH OF the annoying clutter usually attendant upon dish-washing can be eliminated by use of a neoprene-covered dishwasher. Chipping or leakage of fine china and glassware will also be kept to a minimum. The drainer is sturdily constructed of steel wire and is completely coated with a special compound of neoprene, the chemical rubber made by Du Pont. The neoprene coating will retain its natural luster and does not tend to become soft and "gummy" because it has high resistance to heat, grease, oils, and fats.

WHAT'S DOING AT THE DALYS'

Jeannie Can't Forget

By MARY FINLEY DALY

Pat and I dropped in at the five-and-ten to pick up various items—we always need something there.

"That's all," we told the clerk. Why, she didn't look much older than Ellen—16 perhaps—and as though she should be playing outdoors instead of standing behind a counter all day.

The peasant blouse only accentuated the small frame, the slightly stooped shoulders, the thin little nose. Numerous brown eyes glanced up from the purchases in her hand, brightened, and her face broke into a smile like a sunrise when she saw Pat.

"Are you... aren't you... Miss Daly?" she asked shyly. Pat nodded, hesitantly.

"And weren't you counselor at the Christ Child Camp three years ago—and the art teacher?"

"Yes, I was," Pat trying to place the girl.

"I couldn't forget you, Miss Daly—nor anybody else at that wonderful camp. Wasn't it fun? Can you wait a minute—just a minute?"

Automatically she took the items another customer handed her, figured them. "Twenty-five and a penny tax."

"Mine want," Jeannie said proudly. "It's as smooth and round as if it came out this store. It's got a smart growing in it and I'm going to put it on my parlor table when I get married. And my mother's still got that cute napkin holder you taught us how to make. It's the prettiest thing in our kitchen."

"Are you working here just for the summer, Jeannie?" Pat asked. "Going back to high in the fall?"

"No, ma'am," she said. "Now that I got work papers I'll keep right on. The pay's good and it helps Mom. Maybe the little kids can't finish high. I got jobs for two of the other girls I met at camp and we have a lot of fun talking about that summer."

IT WAS obvious that Jeannie wanted to keep right on talking about those two weeks of three summers ago.

"Remember how cool it was so cool you had to have a blanket? And quiet you could hear the crickets chirp... you never heard a street car or a luke box. Sometimes at night when it's hot and the people in the next flat start fighting and I can't sleep, I just lie there and think of those nights at camp—and the fun we had in the daytime—and all you wanted to eat..."

Several customers had come to the counter, so we told Jeannie good-bye—but turned to watch her. The stooped shoulders were somewhat straighter now.

"And two cents tax, ma'am," a reminiscent smile still lingered about her lips.

Only the Christ Child Himself knows how far-reaching is the influence of the Society that Miss Mary Merrick founded in His name.
