Offer To Free Prolate Seen Coverup for Tito Regime

IN OTHER WORDS, the Tito regime proposed to release the Archbishop not as an innocent man who had suffered unjust imprisonment...

If the Holy See accepted the offer, Belgrade would earn, on its propaganda calculated, praise for its "generosity"...

WHAT WAS the reply of the Holy See to Yugoslavia's proposal? Here is the full text of the answer given to the Yugoslav regime:

"(1) The judgment of the Holy See regarding the trial and condemnation of the Most Reverend Archbishop Zagreb being well known, it is obvious that the Holy See would never release its Archbishop Zagreb...

"(2) It is known to the Holy See that the most distinguished priests, convinced of his own innocence, prefer to remain next his faithful. The Holy See cannot but respect such a position and therefore does not intend to impose an exile which would be contrary to what Archbishop Stepinac believes in connection to be his duty.

"(3) Moreover, the situation of the Catholic Church in Yugoslavia is not based on any substantial basis with the aid and cooperation of Archbishop Stepinac...

Red General Answers Query On Missionaries

These religious workers who have been taken prisoners are not captives. The restricted mission is to save such persons unmolested in time of war.

It is possible that during the first months of war, conditions were so confused and disturbed that these non-combatants were hastily made prisoners. It is possible that because of these conditions and special circumstances, no arrangements were made then to give their relatives the customary information about them.

The present conference offers an opportunity for me to present this request to you personally. It offers an opportunity for you and your colleagues to furnish this information. You will agree, I trust,
