Road, North, August 18. ... Mass was received ... Congregation of Our ... Charity of Refuge by ... Joseph Lloyd Hogan ... Bishop's Seminary faculty, ... at the Excellency ... pastor.

... HOGAN was as... by the Rev. James W. ..., C.S.B. of Aquinas Insti...

...tute who preached the sermon. During the low Mass, girls of Holy Angels School conducted by the Sisters sang hymns. At the ceremony's conclusion, the girls sang a hymn to St. John Eudes, founder of the Congregation whose feast was celebrated the next day, August 19.

Because the ceremony was private, only members of the immediate family attended.

Sister Mary of St. John Eudes took the four vows of her community; poverty, chastity, obedience and zeal for saving souls after completing her five and a half years' preparation the Winton Road North monastery. Sister entered the order in January 1946.

AT THE NOVITIATE at 1326 Winton Road, North, young women are prepared for final profession in the Sisters of Our Lady of Charity of Refuge by serving six months as postulants, two years as novices and taking temporary vows for three years.

The community is happy to receive young women who feel they have a vocation for the work done at Holy Angels Home. The Sisters care for young women and girls brought to them to be helped to meet problems which must be faced now or will hereafter be faced out in life. The purpose is that the young women may be enabled to lead a good Christian life and thus save their souls, The Sisters point out.

Catholics Participate In World Youth Meeting

time failed to mention the "massing of almost the entire Indian army on the Pakistan borders."

During one day of the meeting party airs prevailed around Willard Straight Hall, the building that was the nerve center on the campus of the World Assembly of Youth as the Pakistan delegation to WAY observed their country's Independence Day. The fact that August 14th was the fourth anniversary and the "fourth of July" of Pakistan independence escaped no one's attention. The Pakistan delegation of nine persons added a touch of native color with flags etc to the dining hall for the evening meal.

Addressing the Assembly by phone from Washington Secretary of State Dean Acheson said "It is tragic that many people have followed the road to regimentation, thinking it offered a short cut to progress. He praised the delegates of WAY for their right thinking.

During the meeting six of the youth delegates called on President Truman at the White House. They presented the president with a silver pin, making him the first "World Ambassador" of WAY

It was obvious to all that Catholics of all races, even those from small distant places, were acquitting themselves nobly on this world scene of youth.

Among the countries sending Catholic delegates were Belgium, France, Italy, Senegal, Algeria, Gold Coast, Pakistan, Viet Nam, Middle Congo, the Philippines, Malta, Canada, England, and the United States.
