GOD LOVE YOU!

By MOST REV. FULTON J. SHEEN

* * *

THE newspapers print the evil which men do and call it "news." This column prints the good they do, calls it GOD LOVE YOU.

There are more atheists in America than in Africa . . . A Bishop in India wanted to found a leper home, his brother, a priest who was told he had only a few years to live offered to establish it. The result is that today the leprosarium is filled with Hindus, Moslems, Protestants and Catholics. One night a victim of leprosy, Kasan by name, who had been banished from his house, walked 50 miles to ask the Sisters to take him in. One of the Sisters gave up her room for him and slept in the open air. Kasan later was baptized as Paul and died in the Faith. Would you sacrifice a movie a week to make this story happen again? . . . GOD LOVE YOU to D.H.J., who carries his own golf clubs now, and sends the caddy fees to us. A cash-and-caddy deal!

Because her illness wasn't fatal,
Jane sends weekly checks to Natal.

PHILANTHROPHY is giving without the love of God. Charity is giving with the love of God. Sacrifice is pain with the love of God . . . In a short time the World Mission Rosary will be international. At the International Meeting at Rome of The Society for the Propagation of the Faith, directors from different nations asked permission to use it in their countries. Petitions for it are now coming in from all over the world. We will bless and send you a pair for a $2.00 offering for the Holy Father's Missions . . . GOD LOVE YOU to Anita G., who has given up her weekly beauty treatments for the Missions. ("The beauty of the King's daughter is from within.") . . . Every good Catholic in the present world crisis should so live as to be a part of the answer rather than a part of the problem . . . GOD LOVE YOU to H.D.R., who gave up ordering cream and uses the top of the milk instead for the Holy Father's Missions. ("The cream of the jest," she writes, "is that I'm thinner, healthier and happier, too.")

For what you paid for "Oklahoma",
They'll have a baby in Dodoma.

AFRICA: AN elderly woman in Kasanaga who refused to live with other people said on dying "I belong to the devil . . . and he told me all this country belongs to him too." The Sisters hung a miraculous medal around her neck recited a Hail Mary and she was baptized and died in the Faith . . . The Mayor of Mikazuki Japan so impressed by the charity of the missionaries came into the Church and influenced 50 men and 33 women to do the same. 50 more are now under instruction. Would you like to help the Holy Father's Missions build a Catholic Church there? . . . GOD LOVE YOU to E.Y.O'B. who promised the Blessed Mother that if she got an income tax rebate she would send it to the Holy Father's Missions. She did and she did! . . . "What's your business?" Whatever it is, it is only an avocation. Your business is to love.

The Holy Father's own name for His beloved missioners is "Heralds of the Gospels"—newsboys shouting the Good News—announcers who never sign off, day or night, when there are souls to be instructed. If you have not saved a soul, yourself, will you send money to the Holy Father's missionaries, so that they can do this holy work in your place?

Tear out this column, pin your contribution and mail to the Holy Father's own representative, the Most Reverend Fulton J. Sheen, National Director of The Society for the Propagation of the Faith, 109 East 38th Street, New York 16x, New York, or your Diocesan Director, Very Rev. Msgr. John S. Randall, 50 Chestnut Street, Rochester 4, New York.

Father Jerome Marks 25 Years In Auburn Post

By EDWIN M. NOLAN

Auburn — The Very Rev. Jerome Holubowicz, O.F.M. Conv., pastor of St. Hyacinth's Church in Auburn, marked the twenty-fifth anniversary of his appointment to Auburn, last week. The event was observed quietly with a high Mass of thanksgiving celebrated by the jubilarian as well as a reception and dinner for the priests of the Auburn deanery.

Among the 43 priests in attendance were three who were pastors of their respective churches at the time of Father Jerome's appointment to Auburn. They are the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John A. Conway, V.F., pastor of Holy Family Church and head of the Auburn deanery; the Rev. Frederick G. Straub, pastor of St. Alphonsus Church, and the Rev. John B. Crowley, pastor of St. Aloysius Church. The Rev. Leo Jones of Weedsport, also a guest, was an assistant pastor of St. Francis Church when Father Jerome first came to Auburn.

IN THE 25 years of his pastorate Father Jerome has devoted himself not only to his spiritual duties as pastor, but he has proved to be a capable and efficient administrator. In 1930, under his supervision a thoroughly complete and modern convent was constructed.

One year later, a much needed addition to the school was built, and, in 1948, a new rectory, considered one of the finest in the diocese was erected on the property west of the Church on Pulaski Street. The old rectory had been on State Street, some distance away from the church.

In addition, Father Jerome has maintained the church and school property in excellent condition. St. Hyacinth's School was the first parochial school to have a kindergarten, and a large and adequate playground in the rear of the school and rectory is also an outstanding feature of St. Hyacinth's Parish.

FATHER JEROME, who is a Franciscan Father, was reappointed as pastor of the Auburn parish at the last chapter of his order's province held last July in Granby, Massachusetts. At that time, the Auburn pastor was also given the title of Very Reverend and was also named a Definitor Perpetuus. The significance of this honor is that Father Jerome in such a capacity has a vote in all chapter meetings of his province as well as enjoying the privilege of acting as a consultor in all affairs of his order.

In addition to his duties as pastor, Father Jerome has also, in the past twenty-five years, played an active role in civic affairs.

Sept. 7—Cohocton; Genoa.

EACH WITH 25 YEARS in serving parishioners in Auburn, four priests of the area joined with others in honoring the Rev. Jerome Holubowicz, O.F.M. Conv., pastor of St. Hyacinth's Church, on his reaching the quarter of a century mark. In the photo (from left) are: Rev. Frederick G. Straub, St. Alphonsus Church pastor; Rev. Leo A. Jones, St. Joseph's, Weedsport, pastor and former assistant at St. Francis and St. Alphonsus Churches; Father Jerome, guest of honor at a reception; Monsignor John A. Conway, dean of the Auburn deanery and Holy Family Church pastor and Rev. John A. Conway, St. Aloysius Church pastor.

Monument Honoring Sisters Erected By Alhambra Order

In the presence of several hundred religious of the Congregation de Notre Dame, a monument was unveiled in Montreal to the memory of the Blessed Marguerite Bourgeoys, foundress of the congregation, by members of the Order of Alhambra.

Nearly 2,000 members of the fraternal organization, most of them from the United States, gathered in Montreal reporting their white fezzes for their 24th reunion. The Alhambra has two aims, to make members better known to each other and to conserve Catholic historical sites.

JOSEPH M. McKENNA, of Washington, D. C., was elected Supreme Commander of the order at the closing session. He succeeds Norman A. O'Brien, of Rochester, N. Y.

O'Brien after completing two successful years in office was presented with a handsome Alhambra ring. He was accompanied to the convention by Grand Commander Rocco F. Natalie of Musa Caravan, and a large delegation from Rochester.

The monument to Blessed Marguerite Bourgeoys is the first Catholic monument dedicated by the Alhambra in Canada. It was erected in the gardens of the motherhouse of the Congregation de Notre Dame and is the work of the sculptor J. Brunet.

THE GREY STONE monument was unveiled by retiring Supreme Commander O'Brien. It bears the inscription: "To the memory of Marguerite Bourgeoys, 1620-1700, foundress of the Congregation de Notre Dame, first teacher of Ville Marie, pioneer of social works, mother of the colony. Erected by the Order of the Alhambra on the occasion of its biennial congress, August 25, 1951." The monument was blessed by Bishop Mariano S. Garriga, of Corpus Christi, Texas, supreme chaplain.

Msgr. C. A. Labelle, chaplain of the Eudes Caravan of Montreal, said a better subject could not have been chosen for this tribute by the order. The Congregation de Notre Dame, from its humble beginnings in Ville Marie, has spread out until today it has many houses in Canada, the United States and elsewhere.

OTHER SPEAKERS were Roger Lacoste, former Grand Commander of the Eudes Caravan of Montreal, and the Rev. Andre Pustienne, who voiced the thanks of the Congregation to the Alhambra members for their gift. Two large wreaths of flowers were placed at the foot of the monument by the Superior General of the Congregation, Mother Ignace, and by Mr. O'Brien, the retiring Supreme Commander.

While in Montreal, the delegates attended Mass at St. James Cathedral, and visited the internationally known shrine of St. Joseph's Oratory where they took part in a torchlight procession. A civic welcome was extended to the delegates by Camillien Houde, Mayor of Montreal, and the City of Montreal also tendered them a reception at the Chalet on Mont Royal.
