Bishop Sheen To Open Thomas More Lectures

Bishop Fulton J. Sheen will inaugurate the Thomas More Lecture Forum opening the 1951-1952 season in the newly decorated Nazareth Academy auditorium on Wednesday, Oct. 10 according to the Very Rev. Msgr. John S. Randall, forum executive director.

A campaign for sponsoring memberships for the series of five outstanding lectures opened Wednesday night at a dinner at the Country Club of Rochester. The solicitors will work until Sunday, Sept. 23. Headquarters are at the Catholic Courier Journal, 35 Scio St.

The diocesan newspaper is sponsoring the forum for the second season.

Bishop Sheen's topic will be "Mission to the World." He is national director of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith and internationally known for his radio and pulpit addresses and his writings.

ALSO SLATED for lectures are:

Miss Marguerite Higgins, war correspondent of the New York Herald-Tribune, who will be heard in Hotel Sheraton ballroom Sunday, Dec. 2, on the subject "Around the Iron Curtain."

Rev. Edmund Walsh, S.J., of Georgetown University, who will speak in the Sheraton ballroom Thursday, Jan. 17, on "The Atom Bomb—Right or Wrong?"

George E. Sokolsky, noted newspaper columnist, listed at Hotel Sheraton ballroom Tuesday, Feb. 5, on "These Days."

William H. Mooring, Catholic authority on motion pictures and columnist for the Courier-Journal, who will close the series at Hotel Sheraton ballroom on Sunday, March 23, speaking on "Hollywood in Focus."

The series will present "five subjects which quite encompass the major problems on which every member of the American Catholic laity should be intelligently informed in these critical days," Monsignor Randall said.

THE FIVE SPEAKERS are widely known enough to bring out large attendance at each lecture. Bishop Sheen's lecture will be followed by the only woman war correspondent to send dispatches from Korea. Father Walsh has been known for years as an expert both in the field of world politics and a fearless exponent of the Catholic viewpoint on all geopolitical affairs.

George Sokolsky will in his lecture digest the most informative details of a 30-year research into Russian plans and techniques. Mooring, a convert to Catholicism, will bring his views on the importance of adherence to worthwhile principles in the production of motion pictures.

On the Board of Directors of the forum are: His Excellency Bishop Kearney, honorary chairman; Mrs. Francis E. Cunningham, Louis A. Langie, Mrs. David F. Lawless, Theodore F. Lemm, Mrs. J. Mallory Loos, William J. McLaughlin, Mrs. Angelo A. Mastrella, Emmett V. Norton, Frank E. Wolfe, Monsignor Randall and Miss Zelda Lyons, corresponding secretary.

For Daily Visits At Mercy High

Students stop in between classes to visit the Blessed Sacrament in the new chapel of Our Lady of Mercy High School dedicated as school opened last week. An oak reredos and oak wall-paneling lend dignity to the little oratory which will seat 50 people. Planned as a devotional chapel for the students, the oratory will be used for Mass and Benediction when small groups meet at the school.

Chapel Opened For Students At Mercy High

A new chapel, set with oak paneled walls and seating space for 50 persons, was blessed and opened for student devotions at Our Lady of Mercy High School this week.

A replacement for the long, third floor chapel familiar to Mercy students for 23 years, the new oratory will be handy to all the student body for brief visits to the Blessed Sacrament between classes and will be used for Holy Mass and Benediction when small groups like Cana Conferences and alumnae gatherings meet in the school.

MERCY ENROLLED 846 students on opening day, 40 more than last September with a freshman class of 243 topping all upper class groups.

Besides a new chapel and new classrooms returning students found that a complete interior paint job had brightened corridors and classrooms and the walks, driveway and parking area around the school had received extensive resurfacing.

The Rev. Richard Tormey replaced Rev. John T. Callahan as chaplain and religion instructor while Sister M. Borromeo and Sister M. Noreen were succeeded on the faculty by Sister M. Declan and Sister Elaine.

A COLOR SCHEME of glazed sunset brown tints the chapel walls harmonizing with the oak reredos and the imported, hand-carved crucifix over the altar. Stately wood-carved angels flank the reredos. Two new statues of St. Joseph and the Blessed Mother, gift of the Class of 1951, stand on pedestals at either side. Cocoa brown drapes of Celtweed hang at six tall windows of frosted glass which flood the room with light.

Until last November when a large new chapel was dedicated in the Sisters of Mercy Mother house next door, the old third floor school chapel served both the school and the sisters community. The recent renovations of the old chapel provided two new facilities, as well as the oratory for school use.

Noted Authority On Social Justice Is Elmira Native

The Rev. Richard M. McKeon, director of Industrial Relations at LeMoyne College, Syracuse, who has become a nationally recognized authority on the Papal Social Teachings, is a native of Elmira.

His most recent suggestion advanced was that an "Industry Day" wherein the achievement and progress of our All American team labor management and capital should be celebrated together should replace Labor Day." This suggestion received nation wide attention in the Catholic press.

Father McKeon during the first World War, while still a student, served as a Lieutenant in the U. S. Infantry. In World War II he was a Chaplain with the rank of Captain serving at the 15th General Hospital, European Theater.

HE HAS TAUGHT at various Jesuit universities and colleges before going to LeMoyne. Besides directing the School of Industrial Relations, the noted Jesuit has given many seminars in industrial relations in communities including Rome, Utica, Oswego, Solvay, Massena and Cornwall, Canada.

Father McKeon's articles on industrial relations appear regularly in the "Catholic Sun" and other papers. He writes considerably for national magazines.

He is also moderator of the Le Moyne Industrial Relations Council. This is a group of leading union officials, management men, industrialists and professional people who meet every two weeks during the school year for intimate and mutual discussion of current industrial relations problems.
