Bishop Kearney's Seminary Appeal

My Dear People:

The opening of our seminaries for the new school year brings to our attention the responsibility of maintaining these two schools that have for so many years educated the priests of this diocese and many other dioceses which lack their own facilities.

The knowledge of Christ upon earth has been committed to the care of His Apostles, and from the hills of Galilee that long procession extends down the ages to our altars and pulpits. The preparation of each generation of apostles to meet the responsibilities and demands peculiar to every age is the problem of seminaries, such as those of St. Bernard's and St. Andrew's, in our diocese.

The creation and development of these institutions have been the result of the generosity of one generation after another of our people, and surely you of the present generation have made your outstanding contribution in the recently opened St. Andrew's Seminary on Buffalo Road, Sept. 30, your parish will endeavor in its seminary collection to meet the quota assigned to it, a quota based on the very minimum requirement to meet the growing costs of maintenance and the necessary educational standards.

May I beg that you be most generous in your response, so that your parish quota may be completed with one collection. If every wage earner would meet this appeal with at least $2 as an offering, this quota can be easily attained. Do not forget that the intentions of every donor are in the prayers of these students day after day, and though unknown to them, both you and your intentions are known to God.

I know that your traditional generosity will make this collection the richest it should be to the magnificent efforts of the faculties of these institutions to give us a priested capable of saving the world for the Kingdom of Christ.

With my sincere blessing, I am

Your devoted shepherd in Christ,

Francis J. Kearney
BISHOP OF ROCHESTER

Invitation To Help Our Seminaries

To the faithful of the Diocese of Rochester is extended this invitation to help the seminaries by special gifts and bequests.

Special gifts: Made during the lifetime of the donor, and placed in the hands of the bishop for the benefit of the seminaries. The amount may run to the thousands, as has happened occasionally in the past. But even modest amounts from $25 up to $100, $500, more or less, can mean a definite blessing for these institutions.

Specified gifts: An amount given to the seminaries for a specified use. One may give money for the library, another for the upkeep of the chapel, another for an endowment. When designated gifts have been made, the seminaries authorities will advise you of the ways in which the seminaries are being supported.

Bequests: Provide for the support of students $10,000 will be accepted by the Seminary as a bequest to be used toward the support of one student. The money is invested and the annual income is applied for this purpose.

Professorships: Call for a much larger gift, for each one is expected to yield an annual income sufficient to pay the salary of one professor. $20,000 was the amount of the Professorship forty years ago. $40,000 will be accepted by the Seminary as a Professorship now. Catholics of means may feel prompted to leave a lasting memorial of their interest in the Seminary by the gift or bequest of a professorship.

Forms of legacy:—I give, devise, and bequeath to "St. Bernard's Seminary" the sum of _____ Dollars to be held for the benefit of the Ecclesiastical Students of the Diocese of Rochester. "St. Bernard's Seminary" is incorporated under the laws of the State of New York.

Memorials of benefactors contributing special gifts, bequests, professorships are set for permanent record in the main hall of St. Bernard's Seminary. This will be a glorious and lasting honor to the family name of those who have enabled themselves by their kindness to the Seminary.

"The preparation of each generation of apostles to meet the responsibilities and demands peculiar to every age is the problem of seminaries such as those of St. Bernard's and St. Andrew's in our diocese."
