

Trappist Friend Promotes Monastery From Hospital

Since his meeting with Father Gerard, Casey has devoted all his free time to begging money, materials and volunteer help for the monastery. And according to those who have come under the persuasive spell and charm of Trappist-champion Jim Casey, "The guy is terrific" when it comes to getting favors for the monks.

CASEY HOPES to get home from the hospital this weekend but in either place he will be on the telephone working to round up for Saturday a crew of bricklayers to make an all out effort on the unfinished monastery building.

Volunteers who are interested may call him at MONROE 4605, or Sam Lipani at GENESSEE 8902.

Our Lady Of The Genesee Monastery

ing on a new quonset type building which will serve as chapel; (center right), monks sit silently from farmhouse monastery for daily work on new buildings; (lower left), Negro Trappist brother tries hand at brick laying; (lower right) monks silently eat frugal fare in cramped quarters of temporary refectory.

Pope Gives Eisenhower's Wife Unexpected Audience

Vatican City (NC) - Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower, wife of General of the Army Eisenhower, Supreme Commander of the North Atlantic Pact defense forces, had an informal and unexpected audience with His Holiness Pope Pius XII. It came about this way:

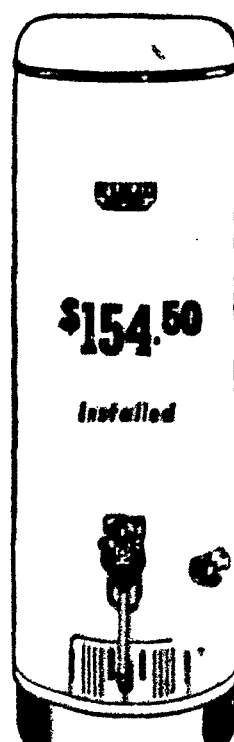

Mrs. Eisenhower had come to Italy with her husband who took part in United States Sixth Fleet maneuvers in the Mediterranean. She did not expect to have sufficient time in Rome to request an audience with His Holiness. However, Mrs. Eisenhower and her companions found an opportunity to drive out to Castelgandolfo, summer residence of the Pope, where they joined the gathering of people attending the regular general audiences which are held in the court yard of the Papal summer palace.

When His Holiness was informed of Mrs. Eisenhower's presence, he directed that she be escorted upstairs. There she was received by the Pontiff for a brief visit after the general audience.

After her audience, Mrs. Eisenhower expressed herself as delighted and grateful for the Pontiff's kindness in receiving her. She had never seen the Pontiff before. Mrs. Eisenhower has departed for Nice to rejoin her husband after his return from the fleet maneuvers.

NOW! a new way to give children SEX INSTRUCTION

Dramatized Recordings! Produced by The Christophers

Under the direction of Father James Carr, a complete series of dramatized recordings with original music and natural language help parents explain sex matters to growing children.

Part 1—"How Babies Are Born"
Part 2—"Menstruation"
Part 3—"Problems of Growing Boys"
Part 4—"The Marriage Union"

Revised by PTA's, Medical, Educational and Religious Authorities. Designed for parents of all faiths.

Here at last is a positive contribution to a field where there has been much confusion and fuzzy thinking. Among all the parent's problem, these recordings dramatize what takes place in the average home. Here, parents will find helpful suggestions for the right approach, the correct answers to realistic questions, the frank, but intelligent way to answer leading questions, combining both the physical and spiritual elements in a natural, wholesome way. The simplicity and spiritual overtones of such explanation serve to strengthen the confidence between parent and child and toward the end of embarrassment, evenness and ignorance among members of the family. A must for every home with growing children.

IMPORTANT: These recordings are meant for parents and adult groups only. They should not be played for children.
