

Aquinas Faces Unbeaten Manlius in Final Tilt Thanksgiving Morn

By F. PARKER

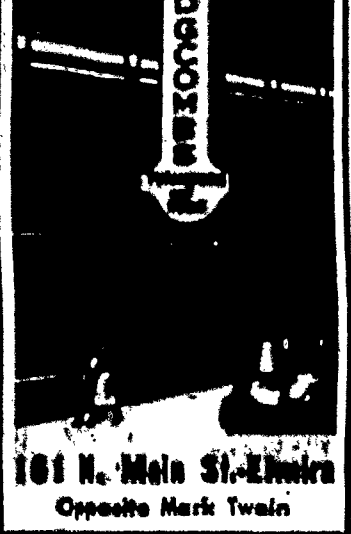

Thanksgiving Day's football game is expected to be an exciting one for the thousands of fans who will watch the "Little Irish" Manlius Military Academy at 11 a. m. next Sunday in Aquinas Memorial Stadium.

Manlius, which last Sunday defeated Cortland Junior Varsity, 14-0; Colgate Frosh, 20-18; Hobart Junior Varsity, 31-0; Valley Forge Military, 13-6; Williams Frosh, 14-0; and St. Lawrence Junior Varsity, 38-7. The Cadets take on Renaissance Polytechnic Institute Junior Varsity this Saturday.

Manlius thus far has held its opponents to 31 while scoring 128 points. With one game remaining before the Aquinas contest, the Manlius record shows wins over Cortland Junior Varsity, 14-0; Colgate Frosh, 20-18; Hobart Junior Varsity, 31-0; Valley Forge Military, 13-6; Williams Frosh, 14-0; and St. Lawrence Junior Varsity, 38-7. The Cadets take on Renaissance Polytechnic Institute Junior Varsity this Saturday.

Manlius' capable pigskin aggregation, Manlius will bring to Memorial Stadium its school band, cadet drill corps and a large rooting section for half-time ceremonies.

Friends of Aquinas have been invited to a program "Beat Manlius" pep rally to be held Wednesday night, Nov. 21, at the Dewey Avenue school, with band music, songs, fireworks and refreshments.

If spectators at the Thanksgiving Day game get even half the thrills enjoyed by the 15,200 fans at the St. Benedict clash, they will be well rewarded.

IT WAS a see-saw contest by two well-matched teams, with the score tied three times and the lead changing hands four times. With but eight minutes remaining in the last quarter, the Little Irish came from behind to tie the score at 19-all, and with 40 seconds of the game left they scored a nearly-sensational touchdown, which with the extra point after gave them the upset victory, 28-19.

Both these Aquinas scores came on long, accurate passes by Quarterback Jimmy Burns and fingertip on-the-run catches by End Don Hollender. The game goes into Aquinas records as equal in thrills to the Little Irish last-minute 38-32 win over St. James of Texas in 1947.

It was the first Aquinas victory over St. Benedict in three games. Jubilantly elated were Coaches Mickey Connolly and Basil Marella, whose unbeaten 1949 Aquinas team was roundly trounced by the Newark boys, 25-9. And in 1948 St. Benedict's had marred an undefeated Little Irish squad with a 7-7 tie.

ST. BENEDICT'S, favored to win by about two touchdowns over an Aquinas team which had won 4 and lost 2, was a constant threat all afternoon, and kept both the Little Irish and the spectators on edge throughout.

Aquinas took a 6-0 lead in the first quarter; in the second period they fell behind, 7-6, then came back to walk off with a 13-7 halftime lead. St. Benedict's tied it 13-all in the third quarter and went ahead 19-13 in the fourth period. Then came the whopping Little Irish garrison finish, with the tying and winning scores bringing the fans to their feet in exuberance.

Aquinas was definitely "up" for the contest, and was bolstered by the return of Backs Bobby Niermeyer and Sammy Santandrea and Tackle Red Keville to the lineup. It gave indication that if the team had been at full strength throughout the season, it might not have dropped games to Augusta Military and Bulls Prep.

St. Benedict's topped the Little Irish in first downs, 18 to 10, and outpassed them for 148 yards to 101, completing 12 out of 19 passes while Aquinas got but three out of six. The Dewey Avenue gridlers outtrushed the New Jersey squad, 172 to 149. Burns and Hollender scored two touchdowns each, with Sol Marlanetti adding one after touch-down point with a place kick and Pignato scoring the other by rushing.

The 1951 Little Irish will be playing their final tilt on Thanksgiving Day, and their fans are hoping for good weather to see them go out in a blaze of grid iron glory.

Laity's Role In Forming Christianity Told K. C.

Hornell The importance of the laity in forming a truly Christian civilization was stressed by the Rev. Lawrence W. Gannon, pastor of St. Ann's Church, at the annual Knights of Columbus Memorial Communion breakfast Sunday.

More than 245 members received Holy Communion at the 8 a. m. Mass in a body. Sunday also marked the closing of the Men's Mission which was conducted by the Rev. Lawrence P. Sullivan and the Rev. Edward P. Hartnett of the Congregation of Holy Cross.

Father Gannon, who is chaplain of the Hornell Council said: "By your example you can serve God, either in glory or in shame. As layman, you have opportunities to serve God which often are not offered to priests. Your example can build not only a better Catholicism, but a finer Christianity."
