Pagan Acts Call For Protests, Sodalists Told

Auburn—The Young Ladies' Sodality of St. Francis Church has followed an active and busy schedule since the inauguration of the fall season. One of their major projects was a day of recollection featuring conferences given by the Rev. James Marvin, assistant pastor of Holy Rosary Church in Rochester.

The priest reminded the sodalists of their duty to take Christ with them into their everyday lives. By doing this and by obeying the laws of God and His Church, they can become good Catholics, powerful enough to change the world about them.

FATHER MARVIN also counseled his listeners "Today pagans are trying to tell us what to wear, see, and do in order to keep in style with the immorality of the world. As Catholics, we should protest against these acts and do something about it. God will judge us according to our works."

Another major project of the St. Francis Sodalists was a pilgrimage to Father Baker's in Lackawanna, N. Y. There they visited the St. Joseph's Home for boys and the Our Lady of Victory Basilica, where they offered special prayers for world peace.

The Rev. Joseph Bestini is the spiritual director of St. Francis Sodality.

Alumnae of 20 Colleges Greet High Students

Auburn—The Auburn College Club, a group of alumnae of various American colleges and universities, held what they termed a "college council" for all interested junior and senior girls of the four Auburn high schools and their parents.

It was held at the Woman's Union, and representatives of 20 colleges were on hand with information relative to scholarships, courses, tuition, admission requirements, and campus activities.

In planning and arranging this program, the Auburn College Club had as its purpose the desire to furnish "through enthusiastic graduates information on matters not obtainable in college bulletins."

The Catholic Colleges represented in the College Club Council were: Nazareth College of Rochester, Marymount of Tarrytown and Trinity of Washington, D. C.

11 Women Complete Red Cross Course

Auburn—Miss Adeline A. Lauer, chairman of home nursing for Cayuga County Chapter, American Red Cross, announced the completion of the class on home care of the sick offered throughout the past several weeks at the Nurses' Home at Mercy Hospital.

Instructors were Mrs. Mary Clifford R.N. and Miss Mildred M. Smith, R.N., both of whom took the Red Cross training course for instructors in Home Nursing last summer at Cayuga.

Certificates were presented to the following women completing the course: Mrs. Frances Allen, Mrs. Bertha Jackson, Mrs. Polly Ryther, Mrs. Josephine Santillo, Mrs. Cordelia Carter, Mrs. Jennie Copes, Mrs. Louise Copes, Mrs. Naomi Fletcher, Mrs. Clara Jones, Mrs. Alice McLeod, and Mrs. Lucy Morris.

A second class has already been started and plans have been made to offer the same course throughout the winter months. Mrs. Clifford and Miss Smith will be instructors for these classes which will also be held at the Nurses' Home at Mercy Hospital.
