Priest Gives Corning Women A 'Blueprint For Living'

Corning — The Rev. Philip E. McGhan, chaplain at St. Joseph's Hospital, Elmira, was guest speaker at the December "First Saturday" luncheon held at the Baron Sloboden Hotel under the auspices of the Corning Deansery, National Council of Catholic Women.

Introduced by the Rev. Daniel V. Hogan, moderator of the group, Father McGhan spoke on "A Blueprint for Real Living." The speaker presented a practical and thoughtful outline of action for a Christian, who, by living his faith daily, does the most for his faith and country and enriches his own personal life.

He urged a better knowledge of the Catholic religion and more frequent reception of the Sacraments of the Church.

TOUCHING on the virtues of Faith, Hope and Charity, he particularly stressed Charity, which he defined as simply integrating the truths found in the faith into daily patterns of living.

He deplored the bad example of the nominal Catholics and Christians, who, by their indifference, are betraying their faith and ideals of our country in much the same way as are the enemies from without.

Father McGhan also called attention to the desegregation of the ideal to the real inconveniences found in this country today in regard to morality, honesty and charity.

Seated at the speaker's table, in addition to Father McGhan and Father Hogan were Mrs. Edith Griffin, deaconess president; Mrs. Raymond Calkin, president of the Ladies of Columbus; Mrs. James Ward, grand regent of Court St. Joseph, Catholic Daughters of America; Mrs. Norman Murray, president of the St. Paul's Society of St. Patrick's Church, and Mrs. Stanley Manning, president of the Catholic Women's Club of Painted Post.

Father Hogan urged a deep and Christian observance of Christmas. He explained the significance of the Advent wreath, three of which served as decorations at the speaker's table, and suggested that it be introduced in the home.

This traditional wreath, made of evergreen, is encircled with
