Friar, Pioneer of Padua High, Forced To End Work

Watkins Glen—The sun of the life of Brother Felix Kuczek, O.F.M., of the Padua High School Friars is sinking into eternity. Friar Felix, for more than 40 years a member of the Order of Friars Minor, came to Padua High long before the new Catholic School on the hill was made ready for its students.

Nearly four years ago, he came to Watkins Glen to continue his long life of sacrifice. He came to Padua with hopes and dreams of once again creating the stations of the cross, grottoes and other stationary for the grounds of the spacious school campus.

With gifted hands and artistic nature had worked long hours with the Tufts Rock in other places. In far away Burlington, Wis., at another school of the order, St. Francis College, he had created many shrines for the statues of the Christ Child, of the Blessed Virgin, St. Francis of Assisi, the Patron Saint of the Order, and of course the traditional stations of the cross depicting the last walk of the Saviour.

To Burlington came the devout of the Catholic faith and those of other religions in pilgrimages to view his work of 20 years at St. Francis.

Arriving at Padua, however, other things needed to be done and the dream of Sunday pilgrimages had to be set aside for the strenuous other tasks at hand. Brother Felix had to center his attention on the making of the Altars for worship, for he too is an expert cabinet maker. There were other things needing to be done on the old Glen Springs Hotel property which houses the big school. Besides making the hand carved altars, he had desks and tables to make and numerous other pertinent duties.

And now his work is done. NO LONGER will he create the Christmas Crib at the Yuletide season. This was his particular joy to him for his birthday was on the same day observed so joyously throughout
