Athletic Policy At
Aquinas Redefined

Limitation of varsity athletics at Rochester's Aquinas Institute to "students whose homes are within commuting distance of the school," and a decision to subject Aquinas

During recent weeks the Basilian Fathers have made a thorough investigation of the Aquinas football situation. After consultation with the school's Board of Trustees and representative alumni and friends in the city, we are convinced that some revision of the football program should be made.

"We feel also that this is an opportune time to re-define and clarify our athletic policy, not only as it applies to football, but as it applies to all sports. This we do as follows:

- 1. Every student will be encouraged to participate in the athletic program, which shall consist of intramural and inter-high school competition in football, basketball, baseball and other sports.
2. Varsity competition will follow the traditional and accepted high school pattern.
3. Any student whose home is not within commuting distance of the school will be ineligible for varsity competition.
4. Aquinas teams will be subject to the same rules and regulations as apply to the teams which they play; also to the rules and regulations of any league or association to which Aquinas may, in the future be admitted.
5. No de-emphasis of football is contemplated, other than that made necessary by the above redefinition of athletic policy.

Jones 598 Leads
Auburn HN Loop

Auburn H. "Champ" Jones, the number one bowler of St.
Aloysius Holy Name Bowling League, had his best working in great style as he rolled off games of 173, 188 and 237 for a 598 total to lead the league. Jones inspired Joe Stapleton to 561 and Frank Stapleton to 542, which helped Santa Clara to an even break with a fighting Loyola team.

Bernie Audet was key man for Loyola with a 518 total while Joe Spoto's 502 was a great help.
Jack Madden was only one pin behind Jones as he rolled games
of 184, 191 and 222 for a 597
total. But despite Madden's fine bowling and help from Vern Pinkney's 524, Georgetown went down to defeat at the hands of Gonzaga.

John Bodnar was in good form as he rolled 583 to lead Gonzaga to their three to one victory over Georgetown and helped place his team in undisputed possession of second place. Father Hatley's 528 and Captain Bud Grancy's 507 helped out.

John Terry came close to joining the triple club as he rolled games of 179, 179 and 175 for a 533 to spark Notre Dame to an even break with Canisius. Captain Frank O'Connor, the shining light of Notre Dame, came through with a 230 game and a 523 total to help his team win pin total.

Francis Bennett was best for Canisius with Nate Navarro and Emilio Coletta helping out.
