AMONG WOMEN

Something We Can Do

By MARY LENNON SNYDER

A few weeks ago we had turned on the Sunday noon broadcast over WHAM according to our custom so that we would be all tuned in for Father Tormey's broadcast...

One of the news stories concerned the "trial" of the five Canadian missionary sisters in China. At the word "Sisters" three pairs of young ears perked up...

At the parochial school they have come to respect and love the sisters teaching there and other teaching aids of the wonderful mission service rendered the world's unfortunates by the missionaries in their round of apostolic duties.

"They have saved stamps to buy China babies," made the morning intention for the missions, even contributed from their small allowances to mission projects...

The five-year old in kindergarten looked at me with tears in innocent eyes and said, "I hope my Sister never goes to China." Lively and fun-loving, he probably provides Sister with many a cross and no doubt she would be surprised at the depth of love and respect her teaching has engendered in his heart for all sisters.

Being young and active they all wanted to "do" something for the Sisters in China so I told them pray plus the sacrifice of being obedient was the best thing. One by one each retreated to a favorite corner and returned triumphantly a few minutes later with "I said a prayer."
