Eastern Rite Christmas Midnight Mass Broadcast Set For Ukrainian Catholics

The Eastern Rite Midnight Mass to be celebrated according to the Byzantine-Slavonic Rite of the Catholic Church will be heard from St. Joseph's Church 303 Hudson Ave on Station WRET (1290 kc) this Sunday, Jan. 6.

Highlighting the solemn liturgy which is in the old Slavonic language will be the capella singing of a 65-voice mixed choir.

The Rev. Nicholas Wolensky pastor of St. Joseph's will celebrate the Mass Born in Pennsylvania in 1918. He was ordained in Philadelphia in 1941 by Bishop Constantine Bohachevsky and was in the Chancery in Philadelphia for nearly 10 years.

Director of the choir is Professor Kyrylo (Cyril) Capanda, who came to the United States more than two years ago after nearly three years as a Displaced Person in a camp in Munich, Germany. More than half the choir are recent DPs.

UNLIKE THE Latin Church, which observes the Gregorian (new) Calendar, the Eastern Rite Church follows the Julian (old) Calendar.

That is why, for the more than 600 families of St. Joseph's parish, Christmas Day will be Monday, Jan. 7 13 days later than that of "Western" or "Latin Rite" Catholics.

Other than differences in calendar, language and some ceremonial, the Eastern Rite Catholics are one with the Latin Church, in direct communion with the Pope in Rome, believing the same truths of Faith, receiving the same Sacraments and observing the same moral law.

ST. JOSEPH'S Church is one of 131 parishes in the Diocese of the Byzantine Rite (covering the United States) with more than 300,000 adherents.

Three of the parishes are in Rochester Diocese—St. Joseph's, SS. Peter & Paul in Auburn, and St. Nicholas in Elmira Heights.

Next Sunday night, as the hour of midnight approaches, Ukrainian Catholics from many communities in Monroe County will flock to St. Joseph's Church for their Christmas Mass To their "Merry Christmas" greeting
