3 Priests Aid Authorities In Fugitive Bandit Siege

Auburn—Roles of three priests and a Catholic family in the six-hour ordeal for Mrs. James Wadsworth caused by a desperate fugitive on her farm was acclaimed in the secular press following the "siege near Soule Cemetery."

The fugitive, alias Daniel Walker, 22 of Newark, N. J., later declared to be Donald B. Nickerson by Portland, Maine, authorities, who shot himself after six hours defiance of nearly 40 police officers, had held Mrs. Wadsworth at gunpoint.

TO THE scene came the Rev. Frederick G. Straub, pastor of St. Alphonsus Church, and the Rev. Charles A. McCarthy, assistant pastor of St. Mary's Church, Auburn, to plead with the bandit to give himself up.

The Rev. Robert Meng, assistant pastor of St. Alphonsus Church, gave the unhappy man absolution just after he shot himself and toppled from a second-story window.

Mrs. Wadsworth commended the three priests, who were on hand throughout the day trying to help. The press recalled that Father Straub had been a hero of the Auburn prison riot, 22 years ago, and how when a berserk convict escaped from his cell at Auburn Prison several years ago, Father Straub had been summoned to plead with the crazed fugitive.

THE 66-year-old woman who had endured the captivity of the bandit declared him gentle most of the time. She said: "I told him a lot about Father Straub and the Big Brother movement in Auburn. He seemed interested in that."

Mrs. Wadsworth told of praying with the fugitive prior to the shooting. She thought the shot was fatal and said, "I'm sure he died a Christian."

A family commended especially by the reporters for hospitality during the long seige was that of Frank Dickson of St. Aloysius parish here. Mrs. Wadsworth also told how the Dickson family helped during her ordeal.
