St. Boniface Footlight Club 40th Anniversary Show Set

When St. Boniface Footlight Club raises the curtain on "Too Many Girls" on Feb. 22, it will mark its 40th Anniversary in the local dramatic field.

During these 40 years the Club has presented many of the better known plays and musicals of Broadway and movie fame.

Among those staged are "Forty-Five Minutes From Broadway," "Mary," "Little Johnnie Jones," "The Confession," "Seventh Heaven," "Brother Rat," "Good News," "Girl Crazy," and scores of others.

The group has presented several original musicals such as, "The Dugans and the Bookes," "The Ups and Downs of Matilda," and "Matilda Goes Modern."

ALMOST AS WELL known as the plays they have staged as the result of their fine performances, are many of the players who have walked the boards of the St. Boniface Stage during this span of forty years. Among these are Edward Murphy, Ray Weis, Leo Hogan, Esther, West Zeller, Josephine Kramer Schenk, Leo Minton, Edward Rizzo, Robert Bride, Donn Webb, Ethel Ruttan Farley, and Bill Weider.

In staging "Too Many Girls" the Footlight Club offer one of Rodgers & Hart's best.

Combining a good story and some of the best known tunes of these two writers, this vehicle stads ready to hold its own among the best ever offered by the group.

In addition to the performance of Friday, Feb. 22, the show will be presented on Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 23 and 24, respectively.

All shows will be staged in the St Boniface Auditorium.

Among the players in the cast are Robert Williams, Edward Sloan, Ben Morlan, Robert Smett, Bill Welder, Marie Mayo, Ruth Goenzler, Tom O'Rourke, Violet Gleichauf, Barbara Weiss, and Mary Kober O'Hara.

Murphy Twins Win In Show

A capacity crowd welcomed the 18 amateur acts in the Talent Show at Holy Family school auditorium on Jan. 21.

Winning top honors were the Murphy twins, Eileen and Kathleen, of 81 Whitney Street, eighth grade students at Holy Family School, who harmonized in "Whispering Hope."

Second prize was awarded a novelty song and dance act by eight-year-olds Carol Ann Lanzlone and Ricky Russell, third grade pupils of Holy Family School. Carol Ann lives at 192 Whitney St. and Rickey at 940 Jay St.

They impersonated a couple being married 50 years, appropriately attired in the 1902 day.

Third prize was Gene Hettel's band, the "Kelly Street Bums," dressed to symbolize their name.

Included in the acts were Marcia Kielsley, Jeanette Sypian and Barbara Hofman in a ballet number; Frieda Jannsen, accordianist; Don Reisinger, Joseph Guarneri, Gerald Oswald, Victor Tartaglia, Winifred McLaughlin and George Weber as soloists; Donald Guentner, girl impersonator; Owen Galland, guitar soloist; a barber shop quartette under the direction of Ray Bauer; plus Georgiana Rittaco as Madam Lazanga, clairvoyant, Benny Benson, Master of Ceremonies. The Rev. George J. Schmitt, moderator. Trio of Dolores Mellen, Dorothy McGinn and Dolores Kohls were guests and they blended their voices in Brahms' 'Lullaby." Joseph Schnyder and Anthony Gravino, accompanists.

"Least of the Brethren" the story of Blessed Martin de Porres authored by the Rev. Harold J. Heagney, has been sponsored by the Holy Family Foundation for motion picture and television production.

'Flashback Follies' Mapped By Holy Family Theater

Holy Family Theatre Group held a meeting on Thursday, Jan. 24, in the school auditorium, to make plans for the forthcoming new musical "Flashback Follies", dates to be announced.

This is an original production with Father E. Charles Bauer as moderator, depicting 30 songs in the first act, very well titled "Corridor of Time."

The time will be set in the 1890 era to the present. The second act, "World of Tomorrow" deals with the future, having songs from Broadway's leading current musicals.

JOHN CREW, stage manager, together with Benney Benson, assistant stage manager, will head the committee of stage crews, who plan to start work on Monday, Jan. 28.

The three Spitz brothers, John, Harold and Elmer, sons of John N. Spitz of Hague St. will handle the carpenter work and the construction of the intricate stage setting. Assisting them will be Tom O'Neil, Dick O'Neil, Joe O'Conner, Kenneth Wruzer, Donald Guentner, Walter Probst, George Mathis, and Ralph Will.

Frank Treu, scenic artist, has been busily making plans for some original background scenes and props for the two acts. Final arrangements as to color highlights were discussed; plans were outlined and studied by all present; the entire stage will be ready, complete in every detail for the early part of March, when tryouts will be held.

Martha Schur and Gertrude Allman, head of the wardrobe department have ordered the necessary materials for the actors' costumes, and together with Ruth Klueber, Clementine Andreano, Lillian Paskal, Mary Rein and Cell Klueber will make original dated outfits.
