Vows As Brother Taken By Youth From Rochester

Brother Jeremiah Sundholm, C.S.C., son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Sundholm of 317 Zuber Road, Point Pleasant, took his first vows as a Brother of the Holy Cross at Rolling Prairie, Ind. on Feb. 2.

After graduating from St. Jerome's School, the young man

BRO. JEREMIAH SUNDHOLM attended Aquinas Institute and Edison Tech. He entered the Congregation of the Holy Cross in September, 1950 and was sent to St. Joseph's Juniorate in Valatie, N.Y. where he served six months as a postulant.

'Christ Lives In The World' Text Set For Lenten Discussion Clubs

Operation of Lenten Discussion Clubs throughout the Diocese of Rochester starting with the first week in Lent is urged by the Rev. Albert H. Schnacky, director, Confraternity of Christian Doctrine sponsoring the clubs.

Text for the 1952 Lenten discussion is "Christ Lives in the World," a booklet based on the Acts of the Apostles. "This will do much to acquaint our Catholic people with this too little known part of the New Testament," Father Schnacky said.

VALUE OF THE booklet is stressed by the Confraternity director on four counts: 1. It was used for public high school instruction course in 1950-1951; 2. It has been used by some priests for sermon ideas; 3. It has been used by some nuns for meditation; 4. Pope Pius XII has lately insisted upon the laity's acquaintance with the Scriptures.

Father Schnacky quotes the from Pope Pius XII: "the needs of our age demand that the laity too should be able to give assistance to the clergy; and that not on a small and grudging scale; they should equip themselves by reading, by discussion, by circles that meet for study."

Discussion clubs are helping the laity to discover "the Christian's obligation to live by the truths of the Gospel, to become convinced that grace is a free gift of God, working in man's soul, however, only when man's soul works with grace," Father Schnacky said.

THE LAITY ARE readers in these clubs. At meetings usually held in homes, members in turn read aloud a brief passage from the text while others follow silently.

Discussion is developed by carefully prepared questions, which encourage members to re-tell in their own words what they have read. In the beginning expression is limited and halting.

Eventually all members acquire a religious vocabulary and discuss the matter with the ease that accompanies an act performed instinctively.

Throughout the country, men, women and youth from every walk of life are forming circles or clubs of from six to ten members "to steep themselves in Christ's doctrine."

Husbands and wives meet to gather; non-Catholic parties of mixed marriages join their groups. Young men and women form clubs separately and jointly.

Information on the clubs may be had from Father Schnacky, Confraternity of Christian Doctrine Office, 50 Chestnut Street, Rochester 4, N. Y.

Deanery Holy Name Leader Greeted

Toole Elected Head of Deanery Holy Name Men

Unity of Catholic men in living good lives is the most formidable force against Communist infiltration in this country, the Rev. Edward Molloy, C.S.S.R., told Rochester Deanery Holy Name Union delegates, Sunday in St. Stanislaus Auditorium.

The noted Redemptorist speaker addressed the delegates at the winter meeting following Benediction services in St. Stanislaus Church.

An informative and illustrated talk on Egypt by the Rev. William J. Schiffer, assistant pastor of Holy Redeemer Church, also featured the Holy Name meeting.

Father Molloy traced the evolution of Communism through the history of Russia and treated it historically and philosophically. Daily living, he said, is the better answer to the threat of atheistic Communism.

DELEGATES ELECTED Richard J. Toole, Our Lady of Lourdes Parish, to succeed Frank R. Davis. Others elected were: Richard S. Torpey, Blessed Sacrament parish, vice-president; Frank Lange, of St. Andrew's parish, secretary; Henry J. Schoenherr, of Our Lady of Perpetual Help, treasurer; and John W. Degus of St. Charles Borromeo, marshal.

Discussion of the Block system for promoting Holy Name Society activities was led by Charles Roesch, St. Ambrose Holy Name Society president. Martin Q. Moll, president, brought greetings from the Rochester Diocesan Holy Name Union.

The Rev. Arthur F. Florack, assistant diocesan spiritual director, opened the session with prayer.

Catholic Vets, Auxiliary List Sixth Annual Mass

His Excellency Bishop Kearney will celebrate the Sixth Annual Corporate Communion Mass for members of Monroe County Catholic War Veterans and Auxiliary on Sunday, March 2. Members and friends of the CWV will receive Communion at the 7:30 a.m. Mass in St. Joseph's Church.

KC Retreat Set Feb. 29

Members of Rochester Council, Knights of Columbus, have set a laymen's retreat at 246 Alexander Street, over the weekend Feb. 29, March 1 and 2, according to Grand Knight Joseph B. Rooney.

The retreat house is conducted by the Redemptorist Fathers and the Very Rev. Augustine J. Aylward, C.S.S.R., director, will greet the knights.

Reservations are being made with Financial Secretary Joseph M. Miller at the K. of C. office, MAJOR 2065.

Guido To Hear First Reports On Drive

Good Shepherd Guild will meet in Hotel Seneca Ontario Room, Monday, Feb. 25 at 8 p.m.

Captains and workers on the membership drive to obtain funds for a fire escape at Holy Angels Home will make their first reports to Mrs. Michael Spang, drive chairman.

After a business meeting, a talk by the Rev. Donald Murphy of Aquinas Institute faculty will be heard.

The Auxiliary will be presented to Mrs. Ronald McDonald, a past president of the Catholic Women's Club.

County Commander Donald J. Foley and the Rev. Eugene McFarland, county chaplain, are in charge of arrangements. Assisting is a committee consisting of Armand LaMay, Ralph Biewer, Sam Travrini, Ed Plant, Tom Spiegler, John Driscoll and Robert Wilson.

Trinity Grads Study Scholarship Plans

Rochester Chapter of the Alumnae of Trinity College, Washington, D. C., met Monday, Feb. 18, at the home of Rosemary Buck, Palmerston Rd.

Cathleen Chrysal newly elected president presided. Other officers include Mrs. Charles Mitchell, vice president; Mrs. Leslie Doolinger, secretary; Mrs. William Moadney, treasurer; and Evelyn Ruth McIntee, public relations.

Main business of the meeting was a discussion of plans for a new Rochester area scholarship to aid girls desiring to attend Trinity College.

DEADLINE ADVANCED

Due to Washington's Birthday falling on Friday, this week, the Courier Journal was forced to go to press one day earlier to assure delivery before Sunday. Lenten services of churches revealed too late for this week will be published in next week's issue, Feb. 29.
