In a ceremony held in The Little Flower Chapel and attended by more than 500 friends and relatives, a class of 32 students of St. Joseph's Hospital School of Nursing, Elmira, received their Caps last Sunday evening.

The class, including 21 Elmirans, was presented by the Rev. Philip E. McGhan, Hospital Chaplain, and caps were presented by Sister Ann Maurice, directress of nursing.

IN THE OPENING ceremonies, the spirit of nursing, as symbolized by the lighted candle, was imparted by Patricia Redmond, president of the junior class. The Florence Nightingale pledge was recited by the group before the main Altar after which the students placed their candles on the shrine of Our Blessed Mother of St. Joseph.

The Rev. Joseph M. McNamara, chaplain of the Youth Reception Center at Elmira Reformatory, told the young women to "strive to be the nurse that would meet the requirements of Jesus Christ your Savior and Master.

"Yours," he said, "is a vocation—(more than just a job) —a calling to consecrate yourselves to the care of the needy—the suffering, the sick."

Sodalists Hear Vocation Talks

Sodality of the Immaculate Conception Church of Rochester held its annual Vocational Supper on Sunday, Mar. 9 in the school hall.

Each year in accordance with the plan that March should be Vocation Month, speakers are invited to tell experiences from their field of activity to help the young people of the parish in selecting their own course in life.

The speakers at the supper meeting were the Rev. Richard Tormey, [illegible] High School who spoke on the "Religious Life" encouraging serious thought on the calling to the priesthood and sisterhood.

Mrs. H. Lou Gibson talked on the vocation of parenthood. Ed Meath of Station WHEC told of his experiences in radio and TV.

Also present were the Rt. Rev. Joseph S. Cameron, the Rev. George S. Wood, the Rev. Edward A. Zimmer, and the Rev. Gerald E. Dunn, all of whom encouraged and advised on the important matter of vocations.

Credit for this successful program goes to the officers of the Sodality group: Shirley Sweetland, president; Catherine Mc[illegible], president; Elaine Cal[illegible]ary; James Closser, treasurer; Mary Agostinelli, leader of the Catholic Truth Committee.

To A Shamrock

Oh, Ireland's three-leaf heritage
Of tender, emerald green,
Do you deck the golden tresses
Of Heaven's gentle Queen?

Are you a Heaven sent message
Growing in that lovely land,
To represent the Trinity
To help us understand,

Can it be that God admired you
In His garden up above,
And so planted you in Ireland
As a symbol of His love.
