WHAT'S DOING AT THE DALYS'

There's Still Ginny! BY MARY TINLEY DALY

Each of the five times Dr. Garnett announced "It's a girl," there'd be a silent prayer of thankfulness for safe delivery — and pretty soon the mundane thought, "Girls are so much fun to dress - and to sew for!"

They are, too - at least for the first ten years. It's They are, too at least for the nist ten years, and fun to look back now on the output of that old sewring machine: the yellow organdy dress and bonnet that made Pat look like a daffodli; the blue May procession dress Elleen wore when she was in kindergarten; the green coathat leggin outfit that made of redheaded Markie a child model; Mary's plaid suit yard. Why, you couldn't afford model with the green coathat leggin outfit that made of redheaded Markie a child model; Mary's plaid suit yard.
