Ann Bullock, Louis Alvaro Win Bishop's Oratoricals

Geneva — Eight seniors from English four class in De Sales High School tackled some stiff subjects Friday in the semi-finals of the Bishop's Oratorical Contest. And two of them, Ann Bullock and Louis Alvaro, came out winners.

About 150 parents and friends of the young people heard their orations as preliminary to the finals which will be held in De Sales High School gymnasium at 8 p. m., April 30.

Semi-finals were held in the gym Sunday afternoon at 3 p. m.

Judges were William Grammat of Geneva High School speech department; Mrs. Arthur J. McCann, former speech and dramatics teacher; and Martin O'Brien, director of the USO.

Ann Bullock's winning subject was "Who Will Open Up The Door?" dealing with a convert theme, underlined with the spiritual meaning of Easter.

Louis Alvaro won with the subject, "Universal Military Training, Good or Bad?"

The low point scoring system was used with Sister Florentine as scorer. Sister Frances Teresa was in charge of speech training for the contest.

Winning school in the finals will receive a trophy to be held for a year.

Besides their scheduled assignments contestants in the semi-finals were given a subject for a two-minute extemporaneous speech.

REV. RAYMOND F. NOLAN, principal of De Sales High School, announced the names of the winning seniors. William Smith of the Senior class was chairman of the program.

Other contestants and subjects in the semi-finals were: Peter Arthur, "What About the St. Lawrence Seaway?"; Allan Palmer, "Are Catholics Spies?"; Isabelle Simonee, "Is There Ethical Mistness Among High School Students Today?"; John Bates, "Should the United States Have An Ambassador at the Vatican?"; Thomas McAvoy, "How Big Should College Football Get?"; and Mary Lou Davis, "Today's Teenagers, Tomorrow's Citizens."
