

Papal Principles Checked Communism, Verein Told

Rochester Branches, Catholic Central Verein and National Catholic Women's Union, observed the 61st anniversary of the issuance of Pope Leo XIII's Encyclical, On the Conditions of the Working Class, at their meeting last Thursday night in St. Joseph's Hall.

Rev. Frederick Kochmann, C.S.S.R., of St. Joseph's Church was the speaker.

Among other things Father Kochmann said, "the whole world would now be under Communist slavery if it were not for the principles enunciated in these Encyclicals and preached by the Catholic Church."

He pointed out that the right of private property was defended by Pope Leo against the false doctrines of Socialism, but emphasized the fact that this great Pope insisted upon the recognition of the two-fold character of ownership, namely, its individual character and its social character.

THE REDEMPTORIST Father stated that the Pope taught that it is never permitted to use property against the common good, and warned that the glorification of private enterprise is just as dangerous and pernicious a doctrine as the abolition of property rights under Communism.

Joseph H. Gervais, chairman of the Legislative Committee, called attention of members to House Bill 7378 which would limit the issuance of a limited number of non-quota visas to certain European nationals, particularly those of ethnic German origin. He urged the members to write their Congressman and ask that the bill be enacted into law.

The Retreat Leader, William Wittman, reported that arrangement at Notre Dame Retreat held at St. Joseph's Hall on June 11 were discussed.

Joseph Aman, President of the Men's Branch, presided at the joint meeting.

Plans for a card party to be held at St. Joseph's Hall on June 11 were discussed.
