

GOD LOVE YOU!

By MOST REV. FULTON J. SHEEN

MAN CAN hide from God as Adam did, but God cannot be hid. We may close our eyes to the sun, but the light is still there. . . . GOD LOVE YOU to M.W. "I am enclosing a check for $500 for the Holy Father's Missions in lieu of a new fur coat." . . . The Holy Father's Missions is the Society for the Propagation of the Faith which is his own Society—aiding the 100,000 missionaries throughout the world in 614 different areas. . . . GOD LOVE YOU to A.F.D.P. "I work for Dugan's Bakery and I won the contest for selling the most pies. The $5 prize goes to the Holy Father's Missions." We hope Dugan gives him a raise. . . . Would you like a tiny ten page booklet on how to accept trials and sickness? It is absolutely free. Just ask for it under the title "About Crosses." . . . GOD LOVE YOU to L.J.F. for $12 received by selling a washing machine.

Our Lady was the first missionary for he brought Our Lord into Egypt. What luxury will you do without to continue bringing her Son to the world? . . . GOD LOVE YOU to J.D. for $3 earned for the Holy Father's Missions by sweeping the floor of a barber shop. . . . Many Sisters in China when arrested by the Communists beg to be kept in jail, but not to leave China! Are not such good women worthy of your help in the Holy Father's name? . . . GOD LOVE YOU to L.J.W. Sr. for $6 a "sacrifice which I saved in pennies from change I receive whenever I make a purchase." . . . "Where did you get that beautiful rosary?" is now a popular question in many churches as people see the World Mission Rosary. Upon request and an offering of $2 to the Holy Father's Missions, you will be sent one blessed by me.

Egotism is unawareness of other people. It is only the selfish who are unconscious of the needs of the missions. . . . GOD LOVE YOU to Mr. and Mrs. G.W. who gave up cigarettes during Lent to send $10 to the Holy Father's Missions and now hope to make it a monthly sacrifice. . . . A missionary expelled from China after spending many months in prison was asked if he was ill treated. His answer was, "Not a bit. All the good people are in jail." . . . Interested in an annuity plan which will pay you high interest rates while you live, and pay you eternal merit after your death by giving the principal to the Holy Father's Missions? Write for details to address below. . . . GOD LOVE YOU to Mrs. M.R.K. "My husband earned $6.30 on jury duty. It was intended for payment on a ton of coal. I am sure the coal will last longer by sacrificing it for the Holy Father's Missions."

A woman recently died who read the "God Love You" column for a year but in her selfish life never made any sacrifice for the Holy Father's Missions. She raised such a disturbance in the lower regions, an angel investigated. She said: "I did good on earth. I once gave an onion to a beggar." The angel looked up the books and found she was right. The angel said: "I will let down the onion from heaven and you can pull yourself up." She started going up. Other souls seeing her leave, clung to the onion too and she pushed them away saying, "Let me let go! It's my onion." With that she slipped back where her selfishness had brought her. Moral: Cut out this column, send no onions but plus your sacrifice to it and send to the Most Reverend Fulton J. Sheen, National Director of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith, 109 E. 38th Street, New York 18, New York, or your Diocesan Director, Very Rev. Msgr. John S. Randall, 50 Chestnut Street, Rochester, New York.

U. S. Armed Forces Backed By DeSales Essay Winner

Geneva — "There isn't a single liberty we have everyday that we can't trace back to the Armed Forces," Louis Alvaro of DeSales High School, here, declared in an essay which won second place in the Geneva Daily Times Essay Contest.

Young Alvaro is prefect of DeSales Sodality, treasurer of the School Library Club and was school winner in the Bishop's Regional Eloquution Contest. On Armed Forces Day he was "Colonel of the Day."

His essay entitled "Why We Should Honor Our Armed Forces" follows:

"On May 17 all over the United States the Armed Forces will be honored. Why? Because through the history of America they have defended our freedom and high standards of living. The Armed Forces contain the men who are willing to fight for our democracy—a way of life which provides the freedom of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness."

"Yes, by all means the Armed Forces should be honored and given their rightful tribute because they are the backbone of freedom of this great land of ours. Formerly, there were separate days for honoring each division. In 1951 teamed for defense all forces united."

"Just what are the Armed Forces? They are an organization of men and women united together, in peace and in war, to protect, guard and defend this country for which our forefathers have laid down their lives so that we might live in peace and in harmony with our fellow men—the Army on land, the Navy on sea, and the Air Force in the sky, the coast guard on our borders, trained and disciplined to carry on the great tradition of democracy."

"Just what do the Armed Forces do? In wartime they fight off the aggressors with arms. In peacetime they train others to handle weapons and to defend themselves when necessary. Let us take just one branch of the Armed Forces and see what it is doing now."

"The U. S. Army has technical officer candidates, army pilot and airborne schools. These schools cover approximately 500 different jobs circled around 31 career fields. Among these are construction, engineering, electronics, medical, police, and many others. No other group in the world has so much to offer."

"We honor the army for its expanded Research and Development Program in 1951. These include such projects as improved mine detectors, a floating bridge, new landing mats for heavy aircraft, and light weight cold weather clothing. We honor them for research in guided missiles and atomic energy. We honor them for their international accomplishments—for example the thirteen army missions maintained in Latin America."

"But we must honor the Navy too. Some think Navy tasks are mere routine. Very often the men-manning ships and flying aircraft are in danger. The Navy's missions last year included shore bombardments, evacuating wounded, landing the supplies, patrolling the area between Formosa and the Chinese mainland. For these achievements we honor this division of the armed forces."

"Did you know that over 5,000 persons were rescued by the Coast Guard in 1951? Thousands more were evacuated from flood areas in the Middle West."

"What about the Air Force? For their night bombing attacks, for their improved radar aiming techniques in 1951, I honor them. Somewhere I read that our air attacks have destroyed or damaged great quantities of enemy equipment—67,000 vehicles, 1,300 locomotives, 1,850 tanks. Air action has caused the enemy over 140,000 casualties. This certainly is a cause deserving great honor."

"There isn't a single liberty we have everyday that we can't trace back to the Armed Forces. For instance, I got up this morning and went to school. If it weren't for the Armed Forces, protecting our freedom, I might have been forced to get up at an unreasonable hour and go to work in some place of severe labor. Not too long ago I was talking with a service man and he said that at the age of seven, the children of other countries have to work ten hours a day."

"Secondly, when I get up in the morning I thank God for everything He gives me. He gave me blood and the Armed Forces are trying to make sure that I keep it."

"If we think back through the years, we will see that in Rome and Greece the tradition of honoring the Armed Forces originated. Then why in the 20th century, shouldn't we as Americans honor our Armed Forces?"

"Would you, an honest, everyday American citizen be willing to drop everything and run to serve your nation? Would you be willing to live in barracks, in a tent or in a fox hole, knowing that in one single moment you could be sent to eternity? Would you be willing to take the chance of becoming an inmate of a prison camp and being tortured?"

"If you are a truthful person your immediate answer will no doubt be "no". But, the Armed Forces reply to this question is striking "yes". They are ready for the worst to come, because they have been trained and disciplined by the officers of this nation to become the Army, Navy, Marines, or Air Force, the best in the world."

Therefore, we take our hats off to the Armed Forces for it is they who make the pathway for our future security."
