

GOD LOVE YOU!

By MOST REV. FULTON J. SHEEN

IF YOU wish a vine to grow perfectly you must prune it. This God Love You column seeks to prune you by sacrifices so you will be a worthy branch of Him who said: "I am the Vine. . . . Japan now has 105 Catholic schools with 45,145 pupils. Of these 105 schools, five are universities with 2,429 students. . . . GOD LOVE YOU to Mrs. J.M.C.N. for $5 in self-imposed fines for criticizing the boss. . . . A missionary just released from a Chinese prison did not see another priest in 53 weeks, nor a living soul in 4 months. . . . In Africa 15 Catholic doctors, 6 of whom are Sisters, care for victims of leprosy in 28 leproseries. . . . GOD LOVE YOU to Mrs. J.E.M.M. who was given a dollar and added another for the Holy Father's Missions with these words: "It's a lonesome dollar that travels all alone; and it's a lonesome dollar that remains at home." . . . They do not love who do not show their love. If we loved Our Lord, we would make sacrifices to make Him known and loved in the mission lands.

A man who is determined to risk his mortal life to save the immortal lives of others will become one of three things: a martyr, a saint, or a hero. . . . GOD LOVE YOU to J.W. for $2 for the Holy Father's Missions sacrificed by giving up both pie and cigarettes. . . . After 14 months of persecution in a Communist jail, some Sisters were returned to safety. The Sisters who greeted them were shedding tears of joy. Only the expelled religious were dried-eyed saying: "After all we have seen, there are no tears left." . . . India does not yet have a Catholic university, though it has 32 colleges. . . . GOD LOVE YOU to L.G.E., an 28 year old Catholic, for money raised at a school bazaar for the Missions. . . . Did you ever pray for the people of India? If you had a World Mission Rosary the yellow beads would remind you to do so, as the white beads would remind you to pray for Europe. For a $1 offering and your request, we will send you one blessed by me. . . . You are as old as after reading this column and refusing to make a sacrifice for the Holy Father's Missions.

We can bear physical pain, but no man can bear the meaninglessness of life. No one who helps the Holy Father's Missions has that trouble. . . . GOD LOVE YOU to P.V.S. for $150 sacrificed to educate an Indian boy for the priesthood. . . . Belgium has at the present time 7,655 missionaries serving the Holy Father's Missions. This represents an increase of 279 over last year. . . . Children in a Communist school in China were asked to say something evil against a missionary. One child even after being beaten and spit upon by the other students kept repeating: "There is nothing evil one can say against Father." . . . GOD LOVE YOU to Mrs. G.W. for $10 for the Holy Father's Missions sacrificed by giving up cigarettes and in gratitude for losing weight. . . . One evening a little girl looking at the moon in the first quarter said: "Mama! Look! God did not have time to finish the moon." . . . Communism in China is afraid of a woman, Communists in their false trials invariably ask the prisoners, "Do you belong to the Legion of Mary?"

"Charity covereth a multitude of sins" says Sacred Scripture. If there is anything in your past life you would like to atone for, the best way to do it is to make a sacrifice to save other souls. The Society for the Propagation of the Faith will distribute your penances and reparations to the world. Pin your sacrifice to this column and send to the Most Reverend Fulton J. Sheen, National Director of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith, 120 E. 32th St., New York 16, N. Y., or your Diocesan Director, Very Rev. Mgr. John S. Randall, 50 Chestnut Street, Rochester 4, New York.

Congress Gets Appropriation Bid For Church Hospitals

Washington, D. C. — (RNS) — President Truman has asked Congress to appropriate $9,055,000 for federal aid in the construction of two new hospitals to be operated by religious groups in the District of Columbia.

The funds are part of a $11,400,000 supplemental budget request delivered to Congress asking funds for five hospital projects in the capital city, three of which, aggregating $2,355,000, are nonsectarian.

It is anticipated that $3,500,000 would go to Sibley Hospital (Methodist) to pay half the construction cost of a new 350-bed hospital to replace its present antiquated 250-bed facilities. A total of $5,555,000 would go to Providence Hospital, a Roman Catholic institution, for a new eight-story medical center to be erected near the Catholic University of America campus.

Congress authorized federal aid to the privately-operated District of Columbia hospitals, including those with religious affiliation, although sharp debate on Church-State relations was stirred up at the time

St. John Seminary Oratory Winners

2 Seminarians At St. John's Win Oratory Prizes

Montour Falls—Charles Polier won first prize and Robert Moody, second, in the annual oratorical contest of St. John's Seminary, here, held in the gymnasium, June 1.

Students of St. John's seminary and many parishioners of St. Mary of the Lake Parish, Watkins Glen heard the decision after a lengthy deliberation by the judges.

Five students from the college division, Richard McDowell of Rutherford, N. J.; Polier of Boston, David Doerner of Rochester, Moody and John Ego, both of Boston spoke on "Fields Ripe For the Harvest."

Competitions were close and the five contestants used every trick of oratory possible in an effort to win the K. of E. Elmira Columbian Trophy. Only two points separated the winners from the losers.

Judges were: the Rev. Ben-

Marjorie Hogue, May Queen In St. Anne's Ceremony

Hornell — In impressive ceremonies, May devotions in St. Ann's Church closed on the eve of Memorial Day.

Climaxing the service was the crowning of a large statue of Our Lady of Fatima, symbolizing the selection of the Blessed Virgin as Queen of the May.

CEREMONIES opened with a procession of altar boys, carrying lighted candles, and girls of the seventh, eighth and ninth grades of St. Ann's School. The girls wore floor-length formal gowns in a variety of pastel shades. They wore floral head-dresses and carried rosary beads. They, with the altar boys, formed a "living rosary" before the altar and the large shrine of Our Lady of Fatima in the sanctuary. With the Rev. Lawrence W. Gannon and the parishioners, they recited the rosary.

From this part of the ceremony the church was darkened, except for the candles and an amber spotlight on the gold-leafed shrine.

Traditional blessing of the hundreds of roses massed at the foot of the shrine was conducted by Father Gannon. The roses were distributed to the parishioners at the close of the service.

MARJORIE HOGUE, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hogue of Maple St., was the "queen" who placed the floral wreath on the statue of Our Lady of Fatima.

She and her "court" entered the church in solemn procession while the congregation sang "Hail, Holy Queen Enthroned Above". Miss Hogue wore bridal attire, a coronet of daisies, and carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Her long white illusion train was held by little Phillip and Francis Prunosko. They wore white suits and white and blue sash capes, in page-boy style.

Mary Ann Martin and Joan Griffin, in white dresses and floral head-bands, were flower girls. They carried colonial nosegays of assorted blossoms.

SIX-YEAR-OLD Barbara Bishop, also in white, carried the floral crown for the statue on a white satin pillow. In her curls she wore a tiny arrangement of lilies of the valley.

Mary Lou Gaffney, maid of honor, wore a yellow summer formal, matching accessories and a hat of yellow rosebuds. The attendants, Mary Baird, Rose Marie Hirt, Angela Gibl and Lucy Parlavicchio, wore floor-length gowns in pastel organza and net, and flower-decked sash headaddresses. All carried shower bouquets with streamers to match their gowns.

Musical for the ceremonies was under direction of the Sisters of Mercy. Miss Marie Pruner was organist.

Services closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

New Catholic Hospital Aided By Protestants

Mount Vernon, Ill. — (RNS) — Cooperation by Protestants and Roman Catholics in this community of 35,000 built the new Good Samaritan Hospital, which was dedicated in solemn ceremonies here.

In 1944, two Protestants, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schweinfurth, gave the Pittsburgh, Pa., mother-house of the Sisters of St. Francis $30,000 to buy the old 32-bed hospital. An anonymous Protestant later gave land for a bigger hospital as the need for such a building increased.

State and federal governments each paid a third of the $2,100,000 cost of the new Good Samaritan Hospital. The community faced the task of raising $700,000.

The Motherhouse of the Sisters of St. Francis issued a loan for $365,000. Lucy Hawkins, a Protestant, was named chairman of the community drive which succeeded in raising nearly $400,000. The drive committee included one Catholic and four Protestants.
