St. Andrew CWV Unit Set For 2nd Flag Day Parade

Plans are completed for the 2nd Annual Flag Day Parade and Block Dance of St. Andrew's Memorial Post, Catholic War Veterans, Saturday June 14, according to Armand L. LaMay, general chairman.
The parade will start at 7:30 p. m. with Michael Treacy, past commander, Department of New York, Disabled War Veterans, as grand marshal giving the order to move from Pulaski Park on Carter St.
Marchers will proceed to Clifford Ave. and then north on Portland Ave. The dance will be held at Portland Ave. and Norton St.

IN ADDITION to uniformed outfits, a patriotic citizens' division has been formed. All persons are invited to march in this group regardless of race, creed or color.
Invited to march are: Memorial

China Reds Free Jesuit Students

New York—(NC)—Dominican Friars in the Philippines will provide housing facilities for Jesuit students of theology released by the Chinese Reds.
Jesuit Missions here reported that the famous Jesuit theological summary of 2-Ka-Wel in Shanghai has been forced out of existence because of confiscatory taxes imposed by the Chinese Reds.
Some 20 non-Chinese Jesuit theologians are being released by the Communists and they will form the nucleus of a new seminary in the Philippines. Several American scholastics of the California Province are among the group. The others represent various European nationalities. Scholastics of Chinese origin will not be granted exit visas by the Communist authorities.

'Blue Cavets' To March in National Parade, June 22

A place in the national Catholic War Veterans convention parade and competition in drill with ambition for top honors will take the Monroe County CWV drill team to Baltimore on June 20.

The drill company known as "The Blue Cavets" are drilled and commanded by Lew Smith, former U. S. Air Corps and Infantry captain.

The veterans meet and drill once a week the year around. They have won many honors and at the Palmyra Fair were cited for two years in succession.

They have been together as a unit for six years and have won prize competitions in drilling at Avon, Cortu, Lancaster and other places.

The team comprises 15 men who saw action overseas during World War Two. The crack drill company will go to Baltimore with the best wishes of their many friends as well as the public spirited business men who have underwritten $300 for transportation.

The Blue Cavets will be in line for St. Andrew's Memorial Post Flag Day parade on June 14.
