A new class of nursing students from Nazareth College, Rochester, have begun their affiliation at St. Joseph's Hospital School of Nursing, Elmira. These students entered the college September, 1951, and have completed one year of study at the college.

The students will be at St. Joseph's for thirteen months. During this summer their course includes theory and laboratory practice in nursing arts and nutrition as well as supervised hospital practice.

Beginning in September, they will have their theory and practice in medical and surgical nursing, operating room, obstetrics, and dietetic laboratory at St. Joseph's.

Upon completion of this work at the Elmira hospital, the Nazareth students will have affiliation in psychiatric nursing at Willard State Hospital, Willard, the nursing of children at Syracuse Memorial Hospital, Syracuse, tuberculosis nursing at Biggs Memorial Hospital, Ithaca, and experience with the Visiting Nurse Association of Rochester.

The entire course is four years in length and the final year is spent at the college. At graduation, the students will receive a Bachelor of Science in Nursing from the college and will be eligible for licensure by New York State as registered professional nurses.

Both Nazareth College School of Nursing and St. Joseph's Hospital School of Nursing have recently received approval by the National Nursing Accrediting Service.

This is an agency set up on 1949 to accredit both collegiate and basic three year hospital nursing schools on a nation-wide basis.

First Monk Is Professed At Benedictine Monastery

On the Feast of SS. Peter and Paul, June 29, the first monastic Profession took place at Mount Saviour Monastery, Brother Ildefonso Lundberg, O.S.B., of Bridgeport, Conn., took the vows of stability, of conversion of morals, and of obedience, in accordance with the Rule of St. Benedict.

Before the beginning of High Mass, secular clothing and the monastic habit were placed before the candidate, and he was asked to declare which he would choose for himself.

THE CEREMONY of Profession took place at the Offertory of the Mass to signify that, as the bread and wine are offered in order to be consecrated and made an acceptable sacrifice to God, so in a similar way the candidate offers himself wholly to God by pledging to renounce the world and all its pomps, to prefer nothing to the love of Christ, to renounce his own will in the vow of obedience, and to persevere in the monastery until death.

As a symbol of God's acceptance of this offering, the Prior then clothed the candidate in the new garment of the monastic life, secular and cow: the scapular, signifying the manual labor, and the cow, which is the solemn choir dress, signifying prayer, so that together they stand for the two main means of sanctification for the monk.

Monks of Mount Saviour will celebrate the feast of the Solemnity of St. Benedict on Friday, July 11. A High Mass, with sermon on St. Benedict, will be celebrated at 9 a.m., and in the afternoon Solemn Vespers, followed by Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament, will be sung at 4 o'clock. The relic of St. Benedict will be exposed all day.

New School To Rise At St. Joseph Nuns' Mission

A new St. Elizabeth's School building will be constructed in Selma, Alabama following ground breaking ceremonies conducted last week according to the Fathers of St. Edmund missionaries working among the Colored in Alabama and North Carolina.

THE SCHOOL is supervised by the Sisters of St. Joseph of Rochester.

The new building will have four large classrooms and two offices. The face will be of veneer brick and the interior walls will be painted concrete block.

Great expanse of windows will allow full daylight all day. The grounds are 300 x 500 feet giving ample space for building and recreational facilities.

FOR THE PAST 14 years, the school was in an old frame building. The first class consisted of five students. The number had increased to 120 in June 1951. As a result of overcrowded conditions for the past two years on the Edmund missions, the parish hall of St. Elizabeth's was converted for teaching purposes. The new school will fulfill a long desired need in their mission field, the missionaries said.

Friends from all over the United States are responsible for the much needed project, the Fathers stated.

SISTER Vincentine of Rochester, Superior of the Sisters of St. Joseph in Selma, dug the first shovel of dirt on the site for the new building with Very Rev. Norman E. Lambert, S.S.E., Mission Director for the Fathers of St. Edmund, assisting.

On hand for the ceremony were both white and colored friends of the mission.

Also taking part were the Rev. Nelson E. Ziter, S.S.E. and the Rev. Ame Trahan, S.S.E. and Sister Philomena, Sister Domitillo, Sister Alonso and Sister Francis David of the Sisters of St. Joseph.

The Sisters of St. Joseph took over their work in the Selma mission after the first group left Rochester in Sept. 1940. The Sisters took charge of the hospital there in June, 1944.

Grailville Girls Hear Fr. Ehmman Stress Laity's Role In Extending Mystical Body

Importance of the role of the laity in extending the Mystical Body throughout the world was stressed by the Rev. Benedict Ehmman, pastor of St. Mary's of the Lake Church, Watkins Glen, speaking at Grailville, Catholic community college for lay apostolic training at Loveland, Ohio.

The spiritual unity of the world, Father Ehmman maintained, will not be achieved merely by arousing sympathetic ideals and establishing democratic principles. It will depend on our unity as Christians in the Mystical Body and on the realization of Christ in the world—to establish His kingdom among men.

Father Ehmman spoke to young women from more than 25 states and from several continents including South America, Australia, Asia and Europe, who attended the first course of the summer at Grailville, "The Lay Apostolate and a World View."

Father Ehmman told the young women that the laity have the mission given by Christ to all His Followers, to transmit their Christian Faith to others by living the Gospel in every phase of their daily lives.

FORMER EDITOR of "The Chelmsford" and a recognized leader in the field of sacred music, Father Ehmman has encouraged the work of the Grail and of the lay apostolate in this country. He has been active in the liturgical movement for many years.

His lecture at Grailville, on the doctrine of the Mystical Body as the basis for the conversion of the world was part of the course's general theme which emphasized the need for Catholics today to embrace the world, to have a "world view"—in their prayer, in their breath of interest, in their apostolic outlook.

Many of the girls who heard Father Ehmman will remain at Grailville for the six-week' seminars which will be held in various apostolic fields from July 8 to Aug. 16: in Art and Culture to stress the principles of Christian dress designing, hand weaving, sculpture and ceramics, with special reference to the Mystical Body.
