Publisher Of 'Messengers' Warns Of Fake Solicitor

A person using the name Richard G. Marinoff is reported to have collected money from teaching Sisters in the New York metropolitan area on the pretense that he is a subscriber to the Messengers and Treasure Chest, Catholic youth publications.

The Messengers (Young Catholic Messenger, Junior Catholic Messenger, and Our Little Messenger) and Treasure Chest, which are widely used as classroom teaching tools in parochial schools and in religious instruction classes, are published by Geo. A. Pfäum, Publisher, Inc., of Dayton, Ohio.

WARNING FROM the publisher has been sent to Catholic schools, parishes, and motherhouses in metropolitan New York, New Jersey, and parts of Pennsylvania as follows:

A person representing himself as an agent of this company called recently on teaching sisters in the New York area. This company does not employ subscription agents or agencies. No one is authorized to collect money in payment for subscriptions to the Messengers or Treasure Chest.

"If any person representing himself as an agent of Geo. A. Pfäum, Publisher, Inc., or seek-

Barry Honored In Philly Rite

Philadelphia — (NC) — With thousands of spectators lining downtown city streets, scores of bands and military units marched in the 20th annual parade honoring Commodore John Barry here.

The parade started on the Benjamin Franklin Parkway and proceeded to Independence Hall, where floral wreaths were placed on the Barry statue.

The Irish-born Barry, a Revolutionary War hero, is known as the Father of the Navy. Next year the 150th anniversary of his death will be marked.

Premature Babies Attend Anniversary

New York — (NC) — One hundred fifty-nine "graduates" attended a "premies" party at St. Vincent's Hospital on the second anniversary of the opening of the hospital's premature center, and a good and noisy time was had by all.

Photographers milled around exploding balloons. The guests bustled themselves with lollipops and screams. Sister Doroteo Bernard, administrator of the hospital, cut a big birthday cake and, with Sister Miriam Anne, supervisor of the center, congratulated each mother.
