Aides Named To Arrange Family Service Dinner

Attorney Donald J. Frawley has accepted the General Chairmanship of the Twenty-third Anniversary Dinner of the Catholic Family Service, according to Attorney James L. Burke, Executive Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Agency.

Appointments made to date by Attorney Frawley include William Sheehan and Edward T. Lagonegro who will act as Co-chairmen. Honorary Chairmen are Attorney Burke and Attorney Daniel J. Donahoe.

A meeting of the General Committee, which is made up of the General Co-chairmen and the Chairmen of all Committees, will be held at 8 p. m. (tonight) Friday evening, Oct. 10. At 8:30 p. m. the Ticket Committee will be given their assignments at a special meeting.

INVITATIONS were mailed this week by the Board of Governors but everyone who is interested in learning more about this agency and the Community Chest, of which Catholic Family Service is a participant, is invited.

This annual event, which always attracts a capacity attendance, is scheduled for Wednesday, Nov. 5, at Mark Twain Hotel.

The principal speaker will be the Rev. Swithun Bowers, O.M.I., Dean of the School of Social Work of the University of Ottawa, Canada. Father Bowers, who is well known throughout the United States and Canada, will be making his first Elmira appearance at this function.

Bishop Chaplain

Vienna — (RNS) — Bishop Ernst Seydl, former spiritual advisor and court chaplain to the last two Hapsburg Emperors, died here at the age of 84.

IFCA NATIONAL HEAD HERE

Mrs. Frank Eaton Elected State Governor Of IFCA

By TERRY O'REILLY

Stressing particularly the role of loyalty, His Excellency Bishop Kearney, speaking last Saturday at the convention banquet of New York State chapter, International Federation of Catholic Alumnae, told his audience of the influence they can exert, both as an organization and as individuals.

ROCHESTER CIRCLE of the I.F.C.A. for the first time since its founding in 1931, has a member elected state governor. She is Mrs. Frank A. Eaton, former state social service chairman and former regent of the Rochester Circle.

Mrs. Lewis J. Boyce, Rochester, was elected recording secretary of the New York state chapter and Miss Beverly McLaughlin, also of Rochester, was appointed trustee of the central New York district.

In addition to Rochester women elected to office were: Mrs. Charles Cunningham, New York City, 1st vicegovernor; Miss Ethel Curley, New York City, 2nd vicegovernor; Mrs. Stanley Michaelis, Syracuse, 3rd vicegovernor; Mrs. Hazel Eler, Buffalo, corresponding secretary and Mrs. James McLoughlin Jr., Brooklyn, treasurer.

AS AN organization the Bishop warned I.F.C.A. members of the dangers today of being parochial. Although everyone knows that alumnae owe their first loyalty to their school, this loyalty to one's school should be built into loyalty to state and national alumnae groups.

The Bishop advised that this loyalty "must become the foundation of the national organization" of the I.F.C.A.

Not forgetting personal loyalty but taking all loyalties together and cementing them in loyalty to Holy Mother Church is one of the ends to be made of loyalty to school and organization.

The nuns, "the life blood of the whole picture" of loyalty, as Bishop Kearney termed them, are too often taken for granted when without them and the work they do there could be no Catholic schools and colleges, no Federation of Catholic Alumnae. "Catholic Alumnae must do what they can in their own way to bring before the public what the nuns are doing."

Pointing out today's need for more religious vocations, and saying "Not that our girls are less willing to make the sacrifice than before "but opposition to vocations being a deterrent, His Excellency outlined for his listeners what they might do to foster interest in religious vocations.

PERSONAL contact, explaining to parents the nature of a vocation, that it is a compulsion to do the will of God, not a lack of respect to the parents, that prompts a girl to enter religion, may help a girl meeting with obstacles from her parents.

Vocations may be fostered by lay teachers offering a word of encouragement to the students. When there are so many talking up the difficulties of being a nun, someone saying something nice may, as Bishop Kearney expressed it, "be responsible for a magnificent apostolate."

Concluding his suggestions, Bishop Kearney spoke in behalf of the nuns themselves who should be made to realize that the work they do and the sacrifices they make are appreciated. They should be visited by the alumnae, encouraged in their vocation and prayers should be said for them.

175 Women Hear Fr. Lynch Tell Saga Of 'Mary Pat'

Addressing more than 175 women from Elmira and vicinity, as "Ladies of Our Lady," the Rev. John W. Lynch, noted priest-author of Manlius and Syracuse, chose as his subject "The Saga of Mary Pat."

Father Lynch spoke at the First Saturday Luncheon in Mark Twain Hotel, Elmira, on Oct. 4.

"Mary Pat," aged eleven, was introduced by the speaker as the biggest "Tom Boy in the block" to the shame of her mother and the intense pride of her father.

Relating an incident of the death of a pet turtle and the promise of a party as a consolation for Mary Pat, Father Lynch said that a child wants a "kick out of life" even though she has to hit someone over the head with a hammer to attain it.

DEVELOPING THE theme of "Happy Birthdays," the speaker showed Mary Pat — to whom candles meant such a celebration, singing Happy Birthday before the Shrine of our Lady. He continued, "Why shouldn't she sing Happy Birthday to a Lady who knew the fullness of God's grace, so that she was like a cloud drenched with the beauty of an evening sunset."

Referring to the message of the shepherds on the first Christmas Eve, Father Lynch stressed the words "Be not anxious" and compared that night with the present age of anxiety. He mentioned the Resurrection of our Divine Saviour, saying our Lady was not anxious. She did not go out to meet Him because She knew that it was another Happy Birthday for Him and for her.

"MARY PAT," he went on to say, echoed our surety of the greatest gift and the happiest moment in the life of our Lady—the Resurrection of her Divine Son from the dead.

In closing, Father Lynch challenged his listeners, "We have the privilege of knowing where we are going. There was one characteristic common with every Saint. They were not anxious, so should you be free with a liberty that is not anxious."

Miss Frances Battersby, President of the Ladies of Charity, presided and the speaker was introduced by the Rev. Hubert A. Bisky, Moderator of the society. Arrangements for these luncheons are being made by the members of the Mother Cabrini Committee of the Ladies of Charity, with Mrs. John Murtaugh and Mrs. James Pulford as Co-chairmen.

Canandaigua CDA Maps Banquet, Party

Canandaigua — A banquet in October and a card party and fashion show in November were discussed at the Oct. 6 meeting of the Canandaigua Court, Catholic Daughters of America held in St. Mary's Church Hall.

Future meetings will be held in the hall instead of the former meeting place, the K. of C. Hall according to Rosemary Kennedy, historian.

In recognition of Bible Week, a new Bible was presented to the Wood Library here.
