Basilian Fathers Trained For Role Of Educators

History gives testimony of the fact that wherever there is need of a new religious center, God chooses certain individuals and implants them there. The Basilian Fathers of the Holy See are such a new religious center. They are a new religious center, and they are being trained for their role of educators.

The Basilian Fathers, though a young order, have a long history. They were founded in the early days of the Basilian Fathers of the Holy See. They are a new religious center, and they are being trained for their role of educators.
