Faith Courses To Open At Cornell

Ithaca — Two new non-credit courses in the Catholic religion are being sponsored by the Newman Club of Cornell University, club offices announced today.

THE FIRST with the Very Rev. Msgr. Donald M. Cleary instructing will present a survey of the teachings of the Catholic Church, the existence of God, the Divinity of Christ and the Sacramental system.

With the Rev. Charles Langworthy as instructor, the second course will deal with knowledge and interpretation of the Bible.

Under this general topic will be considered such particular problems as what books belong to the Bible, and whether the text today corresponds with the original text.

Red Elections Problem For Poles

London—(NC)—Poland's Catholics face a grave problem of conscience following the decision of their communist rulers to hold a national election on October 26. The question for them is: Should they participate in a procedure which bears no resemblance to a genuinely free election, which offers no real choice between candidates of independent parties, and which does not permit the expression of any opposition to the communist dictators ruling the country?

In an effort to help Polish Catholics in solving this dilemma, their Bishops have issued a joint declaration advising them that "in the performance of their duties as citizens . . . there is a moral duty to cast votes."

Emphasize Education
La Crosse, Wis.—(RNS)—A call for school newspapers to devote more space and give more emphasis to news of education was made by Dean Jeremiah L. O'Sullivan of the Marquette University College of Journalism, national director of the Catholic School Press Association.

Parishioners Greeted At Centennial

Papal Blessing Bestowed By Bishop On 100-Year-Old Rexville Parish

Rexville — Imparting of the Apostolic Blessing by authority of Pope Pius XII to St. Mary's parishioners by His Excellency Bishop Kearney climaxed the parish's Centennial Mass here Sunday. Bishop Kearney received the blessing by cablegram from the Vatican. Rt. Rev. Msgr. William Hart, P.A., V.G., assisted the Bishop.

Solemn High Mass of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin was celebrated at 11 a.m. by the Rev. John D. Malley, pastor. Father Malley, in a brief talk during the Mass thanked all who had made the day "such glorious success." He concluded his remarks by commending "you and yours to the care of the Blessed Lord and His Mother, the Fatroness of St. Mary's."

Bishop Kearney expressed "great happiness to join with St. Mary's parishioners and friends in such impressive ceremonies."

THE STORY of St. Mary's is one of "magnificent sacrifices and consecration to an ideal," His Excellency said. "The history of such a parish is a history of spiritual realities," he continued, "which are known only to God."

Beyond and above any written or factual history is the realization that St. Mary's has fulfilled its two great vocations: Bringing

God to men, and men to God, the Bishop said.

"Day after day a consecrated priest summons God, in His Eucharistic Presence, to the altar of this church through the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass," the Bishop continued.

"The words of the Gospels, repeated by the priests of this church, are the same today as those Christ uttered on the hillsides."

THE SECOND obligation of the church, that of bringing human beings to God, has its beginning at the baptismal font, Bishop Kearney said. The church continues to be a source of fortification and strength through the administration of the Sacraments.

"From the cradle to the grave, St. Mary's has done and continues to do what Christ Himself did," the Bishop concluded. "It is bringing God to men, and men to God."

Speaking to the 25-member Confirmation class, the Bishop added, "What more beautiful way could the Centennial of a parish be dramatized than by the administering of the Sacrament of Confirmation to its young people? We see here new apostles of Christ, which are evidence of the work of the parishioners in bringing another generation closer to God."

DURING MASS, the Bishop presided from a brilliant red velvet-draped throne and priedieu. His Excellency, monsignori, priests, acolytes and torch bearers entered the church in solemn procession while the bell of St. Mary's pealed. The bell also was rung during the most solemn part of the Mass, the Consecration, and as the parishioners left the church.

Officers of the Mass were: Father Malley, celebrant; the Rev. Joseph McDonnell, Hornell, deacon, and the Rev. Leo E. Lynch, Hornell, sub-deacon.

The Very Rev. Msgr. John E. Maney of Rochester was master of ceremonies to Bishop Kearney; the Rev. Robert E. Keleher, Rochester, book bearer; the Rev. Maurice Shelen, O.R.M., candle bearer; the Rev. Lawrence W.

Gannon, Hornell, and the Rev. William Carron, Corning, chaplains to the Bishop.

The Rev. James F. O'Connell, Rochester, was first master of ceremonies for the Mass; the Rev. Francis Duffy, O.F.M., second master; Thomas Harkensider and Robert J. Harkensider, acolytes; James G. Malley, Rochester, thurifer; Robert Kramarik, cross bearer; John Benson, train bearer; Robert Peisler, Chester Hills, Thomas Dagon, William Allen, David Benson and William Peisler, torchbearers.

AT THE MASS were the Rt. Rev. Msgr. William M. Hart, P.A., vicar-general of the Rochester Diocese; the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John M. Duffy of Rochester; the Reverend Fathers: Leo Smith, Edward J. Waters, Leo C. Mooney, and Alfredo Morotti, Rochester; Adelbert Schneider, Wayland; Richard Roth, S.P., Montour Falls; John L. Coonan and James F. Slattery, Hornell; Arthur LeMay, Bath.

Music for the Mass was under the direction of Miss Marie Frumer of Hornell. Mrs. Helen Callahan of Canisteo was organist. In the centennial choir were Mrs. Leo Driscoll, Miss Colleen Driscoll, Mrs. Harold Matthews, Mrs. John Dagon and Frank Peisler, Carlisle; Mr. and Mrs. Layton Austin, Mr. and Mrs. Arling Rollins, Eugene Ludden and the Misses Patricia Johnson, Jennie Brown, Joanne Leonard, Lenore Leonard, Mary Brown, Rexville, and Miss Dolores Hanrahan, Hornell.

Dinner for several hundred parishioners and friends was served at the Community House following Mass. Arrangements were in charge of a large committee of parishioners. Greenwood Central School Band entertained with dinner music.
