Bishop Kearney Blesses Sacred Heart Statue

An imposing new statue, hand-carved in oak, of the Sacred Heart of Jesus was blessed by His Excellency Bishop Kearney in Sacred Heart Cathedral Monday night.

THE STATUE is erected on the side altar, epistle side of the Sanctuary and is among many improvements made at the Cathedral which were commended by the Bishop in a brief address before Confirmation.

The Bishop congratulated priests and parishioners for the outstanding success in the Sacred Heart Convent and Bishop's Jubilee High School campaign.

Assisting in the blessing of the statue were the Rev. William J. Naughton and the Rev. Robert J. Fox, chaplains to the Bishop; the Very Rev. Msgr. John E. Maney, vice chancellor, and the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Lawrence B. Casey, Cathedral rector.

The Bishop confirmed a class of 142 boys and girls of the Cathedral school. The church edifice was filled to capacity.

Also present were: the Rt. Rev. Msgr. James C. McAniff, Chancellor; the Rev. Vincent E. LeFrois; the Rev. Francis J. Taylor; the Rev. Edward J. McAniff, and the Rev. Michael P. O'Brien.

St. Monica Mothers List Month's Events

St. Monica's Mothers Group offers two special events on this month's calendar.

At the regular monthly meeting, Nov. 17, the club will present Sister M. Paulette, Nazareth College, as guest speaker. The "Dear Sister" Panels on psychology and child training is such a special treat that a record attendance is anticipated.

Bishop Presides At Church Jubilee Mass

Corning — Commemoration of 50 golden years of St. Patrick's parish, Corning took place at a Solemn High Mass in the presence of His Excellency Bishop Kearney, Sunday in the jubilee church here.

The Mass was celebrated by the Rev. William M. Cannan, pastor, who received a special tribute from the Bishop. More than a few of those attending were present at the first Mass celebrated 50 years ago by the late Rt. Rev. Msgr. Walter J. Lee.

At the close of the Mass Bishop Kearney said it was a privilege for him to extend to Father Cannan and his parishioners congratulations on a glorious occasion—and to give thanks to God. He said it was especially appropriate that the anniversary opening came between two great feasts of the Church—the Feast of all Saints and All Souls' Day.

THE BISHOP spoke on the doctrine of the Communion of Saints.

"We of the Church militant cannot help thinking of those who have gone before us," he said. "We feel close to them and deeply conscious of their spirits being with us."

"This occasion might be handed over to historians, but it is better in the minds and thoughts of the priests and people who made it. It cannot be written in books, but rather in minds and souls because the history of a church is a spiritual thing."

His Excellency explained that a church building is merely a means to an end because material things are as nothing. He referred to the deceased, "who occupied these pews, knelt at this altar and spoke from this pulpit."

"IF THEY NOW stand before the throne of God," he asserted, "it is because they asked that they might have the faith of Jesus Christ. They are part of the church in heaven for they carried with them what they received here in Baptism. They join with us in giving thanks for this day."

Other souls are waiting, he said, but they have the assurance that they will soon be at the throne. Prayers in tremendous volume will be said for them on All Souls' Day, he promised, "and there could be no more gracious jubilee gift than that they be received in Paradise with God for all eternity."

In closing, Bishop Kearney added that "if we want to reach Heaven, we must keep the candle of faith burning and not surrender to the attractive philosophy of the day."

"Keep that candle burning from baptism to death. Pray that we may be worthy of those who have passed—and remember that GOLDEN JUBILEE MASS in St. Patrick's Church, Corning, Sunday, was presided over by His Excellency Bishop Kearney. we are all united for the faith, the love and the charity of Christ in the communion of saints."

"This is a day that the Lord has made," said Father Cannan, when he stepped to the altar rail to give thanks to those who assisted in arranging the jubilee program. He made special mention of the monsignors, the priests and the nuns present.

"We are joining our Bishop on his anniversary," he explained. "This is his jubilee—his 20th year in the Episcopacy—and God grant that he may have many more years."

He mentioned his predecessors in the pastorate of St. Patrick's particularly Msgr. Lee and Msgr. E. A. Rawlinson.

OFFICERS OF the Mass in addition to Father Cannan were: Assistant Priest, the Rt. Rev. Msgr. William J. Erlen, V.F.;
