

Nicknames For Sport Teams Urged By Newsmen To Avoid Irreverence In Headlines

A criticism of headlines in sports pages of Catholic newspapers which result in irreverent use of sacred names for parish or school teams appeared in last week's issue of The Amherst Register in the column, "Wise and Otherwise."

JUST BEFORE THIS paper reached the Catholic Courier Journal, a letter from Stephen J. Fitzgerald, of the Amherst Register, said chronic editorial staff came offering a suggestion for eliminating the objectionable sports headlines, not only in Catholic papers but in the secular press as well.

The West Texas Catholic paper said in citing the headlines "Plus XI Wins In Last Three Seconds." "The story describes how Plus XI took over first place in the Catholic basketball conference. The reporter then posed this interesting question: 'Whether the Pops can last out the rarefied atmosphere of first place with Don Bosco hot on their heels will be decided in the coming few weeks.'"

HAVING THE problem of writing heads for the morning paper's sports department, Steve Fitzgerald told of receiving a story with a suggested headline, "Mother of Sorrows Cops." Near the deadline, he changed this to "Paddy Hill Cagers Win," to show how his idea would work out.

The veteran newsmen complained about the first suggested headline saying it could lead to many other irreverent headlines citing "Mother of Sorrows Jolts Blessed Sacrament" or worse.

To assure that sacred names would not be misused in headlines, Fitzgerald said that anyone having anything to do with parish or school teams should name their teams something like the "Rangers, Indians, Tigers, or Panthers" to avoid using Church names in what he said are "rasping headlines."

Plagued by this for years, the Courier Journal staff joins in endorsing Fitzgerald's sound idea.

Trinity College Graduates To Meet

Mrs. Francis Dwyer will be hostess to her fellow members of the Rochester Chapter of the Alumnae of Trinity College of Washington, D. C. Monday, Jan. 26 at 8 p. m. Chief item of new business to be discussed will be Trinity's active participation in the forthcoming "College Fair," a one-day convention of Catholic colleges sponsored by the I.F.C.A. to be held at the Academy of the Sacred Heart in Prince Street on Sunday, Feb. 1.

Miss Ann Callahan will be in charge of the general arrangements for the Trinity group, assisted by Miss Rosemary Buck. Miss Jane Perigo will be chairman of a committee to welcome the Day's Trinity speaker, Miss Madeline Dowling, the assistant national executive secretary of the Trinity Alumnae Association, who will arrive from Washington to describe to the big school graduates of the Rochester area the advantages of four years at this college in the Nation's Capital.

Mickahki Post Sates Dance at Sheraton Hotel

Refreshments will be served and an interesting program of entertainment presented during intermission. Chairmen are Joe Fior and Larry Schatzel, assisted by Dick Falsicki, Art Scheid and Billy Mackinaka.

OLD IDEA - The essential ingredient for success is still hard work.

AQUINAS - MARSHALL TILT

AFTER THE BELL, Holschuh, No. 16 of John Marshall High School struggles with Burns, 21 and Lunningham, 31 of Aquinas for possession in court game won by Aquinas 57 to 34 at the Sports Arena. The Aquinas five goes to Syracuse Saturday to meet Christian Brothers Academy.

Excursion To Syracuse Set By Aquinas For CBA Game

Aquinas Institute five pulls out of Rochester on Saturday afternoon, Jan. 24, on a special train for Syracuse where they will play C. B. A. at Jefferson St. Armory. Approximately 600 persons are expected to make the trip.

Aquinas fans will long remember the excursion to Syracuse in 1941. This was the final game of the year and they were defeated in 15 games. They were beaten in the last 3 seconds by C. B. A., score, 42-41.

THIS IS THE 4th special train in a space of one year that the Aquinas followers have chartered. They have made trips to Syracuse and Niagara Falls for basketball games and to Erie, Pa., for a football game.

The special train will leave New York Central Station at 4:00 p. m. and will arrive in Syracuse at 5:20 p. m. They will arrive back in Rochester at approximately 12:30 p. m.

A special prize for the trip and a special dinner has been arranged. Tickets will still be on sale on the train.

THE LITTLE LEAGUE players have captured five victories in seven starts despite injuries to three star players - Ron Mack, Greg Britz, and Danny O'Brien. At home they have beaten Franklin High 76-64, Holy Family of Auburn by a score of 88-36, Ravinia High 69-48, and Marshall High 57-34.

On the road they have crushed Holy Family at Auburn 62-48 but have dropped a 58-50 decision to Erie and a 53-48 nod to Oswego. The Oswego game was played minus the services of high-scoring Ronny Mack who had suffered a head laceration the previous night in the game with Batavia. This 59' lad happens to have scored 134 points in six games for a 22.3 average.

Following Mack in point total is Greg Britz who has 117 points in 7 games. The remaining starters are Fred Wagner 62, center, Danny O'Brien, 57' guard, and Chuck Thomas, 6' forward. Aquinas has scored 450 points to their opponents' 341.

Valdian Interests - Rome - (RNS) - The French government has been asked to act as diplomatic representative of the Holy See in Yugoslavia which recently broke off relations with the Vatican. It was announced here.

Miskell's 568 Tops Auburn Loop

Auburn - Captain John Miskell of the Georgetown team in the St. Aloysius Holy Name Bowling League, shot games of 157, 182 and 204 for a 562 total, the high for the day. Miskell with help from Vern Pinckney, who had 555, the second high of the day, and Jack Madden with 502 led the Georgetown team to a three to one victory over Loyola.

Ronald McQueeney's 178 helped Loyola to their lone point but he was not able to beat his dad who has been improving of late. Joe Spoto made the Triplicate Club with three games of 150 and will receive an arm badge from the American Bowling Congress.

H. Champ Jones with 543, Bill Dunn with 522 and Bal Balboa with 502 were not enough fireworks to ward off defeat for Santa Clara at the hands of Notre Dame.

Bernard Osterman with 536 proved again that he is the spark-plug for the "Fighting Irish." Pete Tonzi had 507 with a 201 game to help his team to victory. About three weeks of this kind of bowling and Notre Dame will be out of the cellar.

Canisius and Gonzaga engaged in an "Alfonse-Gaston" act but lost the match 4 to 0. Andy Paddock in the first game and Leo LaVarway in the last game were best for the winners while John Bodnar with 507 and Wilson Long with 503 were best for the losers.

THE BIG THREE: Notre Dame, 2544; Georgetown, 2544; Santa Clara, 2485.

THE BIG FIVE: John Miskell, 568; Vera Pinckney, 555; H. Champ Jones, 543; Bernard Osterman, 536; Bill Dunn, 522.

Charlie Maloy To Receive Golden Memorial Trophy

Charlie Maloy, Holy Cross College quarterback from Rochester will be presented with the Dr. Matthew J. Golden Memorial Trophy as the outstanding Catholic football player of the year at the ninth annual Trieste recently and talked across the miles to his parents in Geneva.
