He was met by Father J. Francis Halby, assistant paster. I'm an inspector," the man announced. "I was sent down here to check on the windows." The "inspector" went about his "business" hurriedly, then left. Father Haley discovered that $125 in church funds had left with him. Father Haley ran to the front door in time to see the man board a bus. The priest phoned police who stopped several buses but found no trace of the "inspector."

In his heaty departure, the "inspector," left his hat and umbrella, which were turned
