Prelate Warns Of Tricks In 'Peace Drive'

Boston — (NC) — The United States, in its position of "special and extreme danger," Archbishop Richard J. Cushing of Boston has warned.

Describing the Russian "peace offensive" as a new wide-swinging tactic "designed to kill, to deceive, confuse, divide and destroy the free world in its nascent maturity," the Archbishop called for a spiritual offensive and constant vigilance against Red efforts for world domination.

The prelate called upon the United States to take a definite stand. "We must accept the obligation of leadership. We must remove from our midst all the fifth column of communism. We must interpret the issues of the present hour and lead our country and the whole free world in a long-term spiritual counter-offensive."

IN ADDITION to Soviet aggression and mass murder, Archbishop Cushing cited three other "ills that cry to Heaven for vengeance."

1) The "planned vice" of birth control which manifests itself in the decline and decay of those nations which give themselves over to this vice in the last place where vice should enjoy the favor of the law—within the marriage bed.

2) Oppression of the poor which, on an international scale, is evidenced in the plight of displaced persons and, on a national scale, in such inhumanities as the lack of low-rate medical service.

3) Deframing the laborer of a just wage. The Archbishop stated that in the U. S. "we are progressing remarkably well toward the solution of problems which might otherwise be stated under this heading."

Advising his audience on how to meet the problems of the times, Archbishop Cushing said: "We are entering a time that will try the patience of all those who are for God and against the devil. But patience is precisely the virtue needed... patience in clinging to our Christian hope; patience in providing our democratic ideals; patience even with those among us who speak out against these ills and their opposites."
