Russia Will Return To God - 'Become Apostle To World'

New York—(NC)—One day Russia will return to God. When she does, writes Bishop Fulton J. Sheen, Auxiliary Bishop of New York, in the August 9 issue of The American Weekly, "she will become an apostle to the rest of the world."

Inevitably, Bishop Sheen observes, the day will come when the teachings of Christ and Peter will again prevail in Russia. And, he adds, after Russia returns to the faith she will lead the apostolate for this reason: "Russia has fire." She has fire, our Western world lacks.

THE GREAT shame of the world, Bishop Sheen notes, "is that we (of the west) have truth but not zeal. The Communists have zeal but they have no truth. Communism is like a fire that is spreading itself over the world and that fire is already in their hearts. Someday instead of burning downward that fire will begin to burn upward in a Pentecostal fashion. Then it will bring life, peace and joy to men instead of hate, tyranny, destruction, and death."

Bishop Sheen listed three ways to convert the Communist, or as he put it, to elevate his soul from the natural to the supernatural. DO NOT ARGUE Communism. A Communist must deny reason and, therefore, is not subject to reasoning. Do not talk about conditions in Russia. "No devil from Hell ever says the flames are hot." Do not hate the Communist. Abhor Communism as an ideology but remember the Communist is a person. To convert the Communist, Bishop Sheen writes "offer balm for his wounded heart, peace for the civil war that rages in his soul, and God for his whole being. Every Communist that I have converted has been converted not by talking about Marx or Lenin, but by talking about Christ and Peter."
