Camera Idea Earns $2,454

Paul J. Ratigan of 834 Winona Blvd. who was awarded $125 a year ago by Eastman Kodak Company for suggesting a new winding knob on a camera has received a supplementary award of $1,229.

He has received the total of $2,454, the company said, because of the effectiveness of his idea within the year.

Ratigan who is a brother of the Rev. Arthur E. Ratigan, director of Rochester Catholic Charities, is employed in the company's production planning and control department of the company. He had recommended a plastic camera knob instead of the metal one then in use.

Since then, production of the model has increased and refinements it made possible only because of Ratigan's suggestion, have been implemented.

St. Mark to help the school financially.

Rev. George S. Wood, advisor to the Guild Unit, will be present at the meeting on Wednesday. Refreshments will be served.

No Feeblem to Brag
It's a cinch that some people who brag about their ancestors won't leave their descendants in the same position.
