Mercy Grads Set 'Harvest Ball'

Adding to Thanksgiving festivities, Our Lady of Mercy Alumnae Association are planning a "Golden Harvest Ball," their annual Fall Semi-Formal, on Friday, Nov. 27 at the Rochester Club.

Miss Catherine A. Robinson, general chairman, and Miss Marilyn J. Winfield, Honorary Chairman and President of the Association, are setting up committees to contact as many members as possible to solicit their support.

Miss Mary Kay White will head the ticket committee assisted by Miss Patricia Born. Proceeds from the dance will sponsor a full tuition scholarship to Our Lady of Mercy High School, awarded on competitive scholastic standing to a sister or daughter of an alumna.

Clothing Appeal Sent From Korea By Rita Jennings

Geneva — A Geneva girl who is getting a first-hand picture of the misery and suffering of needy children in Korea, has sent home an appeal for clothing and toys for the youngsters.

Miss Rita Jennings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jennings, Richard Ave., is a recreation worker in an Army service club in Pusan. A letter from Miss Jennings was read to members of the Rosary Society of St. Francis de Sales Church Monday.

As a result of the letter, the Rosary members will take gifts for the Korean children to the annual Christmas party, Dec. 14.

PLANS FOR the event were discussed at a meeting attended by 80 members. Mrs. Jay Cochran, president, thanked the volunteers who assisted at the USO. A report on the convention of the Rochester Diocesan Council, was given by Mrs. Howard Groden.

After the business meeting, a white elephant sale was conducted under the auspices of Mrs. Mary Scuders. Money for the sale will be used to purchase a Christmas layette for the Visiting Nursing Service.

A musical program followed the meeting. Three selections were sung by 24 girls of St. Francis de Sales choir. The girls entertained with a tap dance and Miss Josephine Lazo sang "Dark Town Strutters Ball" and "Yaya Con Dios," accompanied by the choir members. A pantomime was given by Mrs. Madeline Laun and Mrs. Ann Lagan. Mrs. Marjorie Tyler entertained with an Irish jig.

Refreshments were served later by Miss Marianne Moravia and her society hand members.

Bp. Carroll Consecrated Pittsburgh Auxiliary

Pittsburgh — (NC) — Episcopal consecration rites held here for the Most Rev. Coleman F. Carroll made him the first Auxiliary Bishop in the 110-year old Diocese of Pittsburgh.

(Bishop Carroll is the son of the late Mrs. Margaret Hogan Carroll and the late James Carroll, former Rochesterians. His two uncles, the late John and the late Thomas E. Carroll were widely known in Rochester. He has relatives living both in Rochester and Syracuse who attended the consecration.)

His Excellency Archbishop Amlialetta Giovanni Clognani, Apostolic Delegate to the United States, was the consecrator. The ceremonies were witnessed by more than two-score Archbishops and Bishops, possibly the largest number of hierarchy members ever to gather in this great industrial metropolis.

Governor John S. Fine of Pennsylvania, Mayor David Lawrence of Pittsburgh and numerous other state and local officials were among those attending the consecration. More than two-score Monsignors, over a thousand priests and nuns, and a large outpouring of the laity made up the remainder of the capacity congregation.

Bishop John F. Dearden of Pittsburgh and Bishop Michael J. Ready of Columbus were co-consecrators.

Bishop Emmet M. Walsh of Youngstown, O., preached the sermon, and directed attention to the importance of the consecration ceremony in human affairs.

IN TRIBUTE to the newly consecrated Bishop, the Youngstown prelate said that "he was born of exemplary Catholic parents" and the home made by his mother "was a sanctuary of love, human and divine, in which priestly vocations blossomed in the souls of her three sons."

"Her generosity and heroic self sacrifice inspired her priestly sons to become notable servants of the Church," Bishop Walsh said. "One died of exhaustion in the distinguished service of the Holy See and in the arduous cause of the Prince of Peace, Jesus Christ Our Lord. Another son is the able, devoted and distinguished servant of the Archbishops and Bishops of the United States as General Secretary of the National Catholic Welfare Conference."

"Today another son has been found a faithful servant of God, of blameless life, recognized ability, a fine capacity for work and boundless loyalty to the Church of Christ," Bishop Walsh continued. "Judged by Holy Church to meet the Pauline standard for a Bishop, he is today clothed with the fullness of the priesthood of Jesus Christ and made a successor to the Apostles. Such dignity is perilous for any man. So let us pray for him as we congratulate him and wish for him many happy and fruitful years as a Bishop of Holy Church."

THE CONSECRATION took place in St. Paul's Cathedral here. It was the third time in the 47-year history of the edifice that such a ceremony has taken place there. Bishop Hugh C. Boyle, sixth Ordinary of Pittsburgh, was consecrated in the Cathedral in 1921, and Bishop Ralph L. Hayes of Davenport, who had been a priest of the Diocese of Pittsburgh, was consecrated in 1933.

Bishop Coleman Carroll is one of three brothers — the sons of the late William J. and Brigid-mary Hogan Carroll — who were ordained to the priesthood. One brother, Msgr. Howard J. Carroll, General Secretary of the National Catholic Welfare Conference, was Assistant Priest to the Apostolic Delegate in consecration ceremonies. Another brother, Msgr. Walter F. Carroll, American priest attached to the Papal Secretariate of State in Vatican City, died in 1950.

BISHOP CARROLL

GOD LOVE YOU!

By MOST REV. FULTON J. SHEEN

WHEN Stephen, the first martyr was stoned, the executioners laid their garments at the feet of a young boy named Saul. Stephen probably gave no thought to that little good Pharisee watching the robes of murderers. And yet if he could have looked into the future, he would have seen Saul turned into a St. Paul, the champion and master-builder of the Church.

Stephen did not reap a harvest of souls, nor did he see it reaped; yet he was sowing it while he lived and more important, sowing it when he died. Many do good in this world without ever living to see the fruit. But what is well done for God is never lost.

As Chinese Communists put twentieth century Stephens to death, as they exile thousands of others from the land they love, we must not forget that God never allows a Good Friday without an Easter Sunday. The missionaries are perhaps doing more good for the Church in China under persecution than they did in peacetime. The average of conversions per priest in China up until the time of persecution was only forty a year. More souls are being saved by being witnesses to Christ through suffering love, than by being preachers and apologists. Standing before the Communist judges our missionaries must think them all alike as Stephen thought all were alike who stoned him; but as Stephen's death converted Saul, so the sufferings of our priests, brothers and sisters in China will effect the conversion of many Communists.

Bishop Cuthbert O'Garra recently released from Chinese torture said that if the Communists were to leave China tomorrow, the Church in China would be unable to handle the millions of converts that would be made.

We shall not have a share in the missionaries' glory unless we now have a share in their ignominy. Shall this earth of ours be one vast Gethsemane as we sleep in the Garden? Seal yourself with a Cross to be one with the dry martyrs of our twentieth century Church. Apply the cross of sacrifice to your life. Bend a raise in salary, or your old gold, or the equivalent of what you spend on cigarettes to train catechists, to help cure leprosy, to erect statues of Our Lady of Fatima in Moslem countries. Do anything that crushes your ego, and makes you one with the sufferings of Christ in our modern world.

GOD LOVE YOU to the following: to M. F. for $365. "A year ago I asked God for a favor and promised to save a $1 a day for a year for the Missions. Though the favor has not been granted, I am sure it will. I still want the missions to have the money as it will help atone for my failings in this life." . . . to T. S. for $6. "Thought of sending my first earnings for making and selling jewelry to the Missions. . . to M. L. A. for $12. "I have been saving some occasional tips and commissions to buy something special for myself but decided to send what I have saved to the Missions." . . . to C. C. W. for $23.85. "After reading MISSION, I decided that to accept the gift of the next copy which ever my money would cost daily, would put the same amount into a box for the Missions." . . . to A. M. B. for $50. "Here is the result of many sacrifices. God has been very good to me. This is a small token of thanks." . . . Enclosed is $26. Of this, $12 represents money spent for venetian blinds which we did not need and later resold and the balance is a "Thank You" . . . to S. H. "The enclosed $30 represents the contents of a makeshift bank that we used at home for mission donations. They represent small sacrifices on the part of M. B., S. L. and E." . . . to J. M. for $50. "This represents the receipts for coaching lessons given during the summer." . . . to the T. S. S. "Payday here is Mission Day for the Stenos. As we take account of our various debts, we realize our indebtedness to God and the Propagation of the Faith. We enclose $30 from our 'Payday Mission Fund' to help those who cannot help themselves."

Pray for the Missions on a World Mission Rosary. At your request and a $2 offering we will send you a World Mission Rosary.

Cut out this column, pin your sacrifice to it and mail it to the Most Reverend Fulton J. Sheen, National Director of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith, 100 35th Street, New York 14, New York or your Diocesan Director Very Rev. Msgr. John S. Randall, 50 Chestnut Street, Rochester, New York.

Benedictine Monastery Life Told On Slides

Life in a nearby Benedictine monastery was the subject of an illustrated lecture given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Cunningham, 115 Penfield Road, Rochester, to the local friends of Mount Saviour on Monday, Nov. 9, by the Rev. Gregory Borgstedt, O.S.B.

Father Borgstedt, Sub-Prior of Mount Saviour Monastery, reviewed the history of its progress near Elmira, and through the medium of colored slides, showed the development of this farmhouse community in the two years since its establishment in the Chemung Valley.

THIS BENEDICTINE monastic community, the only one of its kind in New York State, has no outside association with schools or parishes, but follows the Holy Rule of St. Benedict through prayer and manual labor. Retreatants and friends, however, are encouraged to visit the Mount Saviour guest house for periodic stays and join with the monks in secluded prayer and meditation.

The first permanent construction of this monastic settlement on the farm land west of Elmira has been the erection of an octagonal-shaped chapel dedicated to Our Lady Queen of Peace.

A Benedictine Academy is contemplated which will offer lectures and conferences to the laity on the theology, philosophy, liturgy and allied ecclesiastical subjects.
