

Nuns Honored In Ithaca By Parent-Teachers Unit

Ithaca — Sisters of St. Joseph who teach in Immaculate Conception School here, were honored by approximately 200 Parent-Teacher Association members in the Parish Hall, Wednesday night of last week. It was the annual Sisters Night Dinner.

MRS. SCOTT told how the Order started, how a girl enters the convent and becomes a nun and then told how the nuns spend their day, which is a long and busy one devoted entirely to serving God and instructing the children in the school. The Mission Helper's day is the same, instructing the public school children and training lay catechists and anyone interested in knowing more about the faith, Catholic or non-Catholic.

There was group singing and Mrs. Nan Sheating gave a reading, "The Festival of Britain," the story of the Knights of the Round Table soon to be seen in a local theater.

The PTA will sponsor a card party Thursday, Feb. 25, in Parish Hall. There will be prizes and refreshments. The public is invited and tickets may be secured at the door or from the co-chairmen, Mrs. Carl B. Wall at 43033 and Mrs. John H. Kelly at 4-1280.
