

Marine Officer's Sermon In Prison During Korean War Recalled Here

A Christmas "sermon" given to American prisoners of war in Ouh, Korea in December of 1952 and composed by Lt. Robert J. Shea, U.S.M.C., a friend of two Rochester marines is being circulated here on request of his friends.

The Virginia Lieutenant delivered the "sermon" to his fellow prisoners-of-war in the Korean prison despite Communist orders against any talk of religion among the men.

(Lieutenant O'Shea came to Rochester to be best man at the wedding of Lt. Robert Erbland, son of Dr. and Mrs. Henry O. Erbland of 225 Trafalgar St. and the then Miss Mary Carroll, graduate of St. Mary's School of Nursing at Blessed Sacrament Church. Both he and Lieutenant Erbland are now captains in the Marine Corps at Quantico, Va.)

(Another friend of Lieutenant O'Shea's whose home is here, is Lt. Donald A. Heberling of 1084 Genesee Pk. Blvd., a member of St. Augustine Parish.)

THE "SERMON" requested published follows:

"Today is the feast of the nativity; the anniversary of the birth of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ.

"Today, possibly for the first time in our lives we will celebrate Christmas properly—because here, in this North Korean prison camp, apart from the tinsel and commercialism that we usually associate with Christmas, we can see the true meaning, the spiritual meaning of Christmas.

"Christmas is the beginning of the era. It marks the beginning of the Christian era on earth.

The birth of Christ was the fulfillment of the promise made to Moses by God The Father when He said that He would send His son to earth to save the world. And Christmas is the living proof of the existence of God and of the divinity of Jesus Christ.

"I say the 'living proof' because Jesus Christ is living. He is alive today. He is with us today. He is with us right now.

"We, in this group, are more keenly aware of the presence of Jesus Christ on earth than ordinary men—because we have been alone with Him. At the time of our capture and during the events leading up to our capture, we were alone with Him. Our parents could not help us at that time, as much as they would have liked to. They were not present. Our friends in battle, our companions in action were too busy with their own fighting, their own dying if you please, to help us in our hour of need. But there was one friend who was there and could help us. That friend was Jesus Christ. He did not let us down; He came through for us.

"I felt his presence at that time—and I'm sure that all of us feel the same presence."

"Today let us not concern ourselves with the material presents that are lacking this Christmas. Rather let us stop and think about the best Christmas present of all. The gift that we, and all mankind, received on that first Christmas almost 2,000 years ago. The eternal gift of the infant Jesus, the gift of the personal help of Jesus Christ on earth.

Scout Leaders Commended By Bishop At Annual Rally

The Boy Scouts of America is a character building agency which ties things close to God, His Excellency Bishop Kearney said at the fourth annual rally of the Catholic Lay Committee of Scouting, Sunday in Columbus Civic Center.

"And that character building gains a special emphasis when, by your unselfish work, you associate it with the altar before which the Scout bows his head to his God," the Bishop said.

His Excellency praised the grown-ups for their devotion to scouting and emphasized the effect on boys of listening to their leaders talk of religion and its value in after-life. He said he was grateful to those men who give up their leisure time to devote to the work for boys.

Bishop Kearney presented the bronze Pelican awards to six men for their "outstanding contribution to Scouting among troops sponsored by the Catholic Church in cooperation with the national organization."

HONORED WERE: His Excellency, Auxiliary Bishop Casey, who was represented by the Rev. Michael Hogan of Sacred Heart Cathedral; the Rt. Rev. Msgr. George W. The Bishop presented the awards before a specially erected altar flanked by evergreen trees and draped in blue to honor the Marian Year. The shrine was erected under the direction of Clarence W. Beckman.

In a talk given by W. Stanley Macklem, president of Otletiana Council, the fact was brought out that there aren't enough Boy Scout units in Rochester or Monroe County to care for all the boys who want to join.

President Macklem said that 11,500 boys already belong to existing Scout groups and he urged "at least 50 more Scout units in 1954 if we are to carry Scouting to all those who want it."

The rally in charge of Donald Corbett was concluded with Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament. Others taking part were the Rev. Eugene McFarland, director of youth work; James P. B. Duffy who presented the winners of the awards; Edwin Kinsky, organist and Theodore J. Houck, song leader.

GOD LOVE YOU!

By MOST REV. FULTON J. SHEEN

HOW would you like to be caught as we were this week in the middle of two dispatches, one from Rome, the other from China? The world office of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith in Rome asked us how much we could send to the persecuted missionaries in China? The same day a dispatch from China brought a typical story of what our missionaries suffer under the Communists. The priest was interrogated for six hours or two and one-half days, continuously. Refusing to deny his faith, during the day his eyes were turned to the sun, and at night he was forced to face a bright light. Communist judges sat behind him, each spending three hours harassing him with questions. During those six hours, he had to kneel upright. The first twenty hours were spent answering questions; fatigue made the faces of the judges swim before his eyes. The next twenty hours he was made to copy out every page of an anti-Catholic paper. After copying ten pages, he took a match and burned them. The Communists however kept one sheet and told him that he had "signed a confession against the Church."

The next twenty hours, he no longer had to answer or write, but merely repeat phrases after the judges. The priest began to lose his mind, and asked "Why has God abandoned me?" The Communists shouted and jumped with such diabolical glee that they brought the priest back to his senses. Memory then failed and all he could remember were the first words "Hail Mary," but not the rest.

What stands between these two dispatches from Rome and from China? YOU, our beloved readers. Maybe you will sacrifice 6c, or 50 hours of your salary, or some old gold or jewelry. Send it to us and we will send it to the Holy Father. He knows far better than any of us how to aid the missionaries in China and the rest of the world.

If you are praying for a special intention and are receiving no answer maybe it is because you are only asking. Do something! Give up a $2 luxury, and send us your request for a World Mission Rosary on which to pray for some lost soul in Africa or Alaska. Give up $10 worth of taxi rides, new clothes, or restaurant dining and send your request for a gold filled God Love You medal. Give up $10 worth of taxi rides, new clothes, or restaurant dining, and send your request for a gold filled God Love You medal.

When you want something for yourself—do something for someone else, if only to make yourself worthy of the gift you ask for God.

GOD LOVE YOU to Anon. for $10. "I promised I would send this to the Missions if I was successful in breaking a habit for one year." ... to C. M. "Enclosed is $10.70 for the Holy Father's Missions which I earned from overtime work." ... to M. L. C. "For each new customer during 1954, I will send $1 to the Missions." ... to F. M. "I am sending $5 for the Missions each time I get a bit on the quick tempered side." ... to M.E.K. "Enclosed is $3, the equivalent to the amount saved in the past three months by omitting a roll during coffee break." ... to P. J. T. "Enclosed is a week's salary from my new position which I wish to give in thanksgiving to the Blessed Mother." ... to Anon. for $5. "I saved this from the premium money I won at the County Fair." ... to P.C. "Enclosed is $15 to fulfill a promise made last summer to donate the tips of my best day to the missions if I made my tuition plus for the coming school year. God in His goodness saw fit that my goal be reached." ... to Anon, 11 years old. "Enclosed is $1—two weeks allowance. It is my hope that God will help me with my mid-term exams and other problems (such as the devil) that come with life." ... to L. A. R., 11 years old "Last spring my uncle gave me a very tiny pig he thought would die anyway. I took good care of him, and promised to send half of the money I would get from him to the Missions. Now he weighs 140 pounds and here is $16.50, half of the money I received when I sold him."
