What Is Your Answer?

By MARY E. FITZGERALD
Executive Director Catholic Family Service

What would you do if you knew you only had twenty-four hours more to live? Did you read that column in our local paper? What was your reaction to the answers? After your first startling shock, did you verbalize your own response? Was it influenced by the Lenten season which brought each one of us face to face with the reality of Heaven and the fleeting insecurity of earth?

It seemed to me that the prospective affiliates with the Ladies of Charity, who attended the first training course of their probation period last week might have been likely candidates for different answers to that particular question. When I think of Ladies of Charity, I definitely picture a movement that vitally concerns every thoughtful Catholic woman, who wants to be prepared for "that last day on earth."

What does this different organization offer, which you will never find anywhere else, outside the religious life? At the risk of frightening you, to the point, where you will seek a less demanding society, which is glamorized by more social activities, we will try to tell you a little about our role.

IN OUR LADIES of Charity, you will find that neighborly service, which is a part of all Catholic thinking. The task of developing this particular way of following Christ, is the more difficult in America, because our people are inclined to think in terms of highly specialized services.

It is so easy to reply to an appeal for this glorious type of Catholic action by referring it to Catholic Charities! Some of you even go beyond that, and remind Social Workers that "they are paid for that work."

Need we add, that we would never discount the services of the specialists, or of the professional staffs, but we must recognize that the spirit of Christian Brotherhood is lacking in many areas of American Life today.

For a confirmation of this, we turn to the recent message of our beloved Holy Father Pope Pius XII to the Catholic Charities in the United States: "Much meritorious work can be, and has been done by charitable organizations — The very nature of their efficiency, however, may lead to a certain lack of the personal, human touch, of immediate contact and communion in their practical operation."

"VAST OPPORTUNITIES," His Holiness continued, "still await the charitable intervention of individual Catholics, who can increase the spiritual comfort and effectiveness of their aid by their personal interest, sympathy and friendship."

For these reasons the Sovereign Pontiff would raise aloft before the gaze of the faithful this high ideal: "that every individual Catholic be brought to engage in some work of personal service to Christ's poor."

And so, as we outline the program of our Ladies of Charity, we present definite proof that our members are giving a consecrated service, which Catholic Action as our Holy Father defines it. Our members do visit the sick, they do help mothers in the care of their children, they visit the aged, they are Guardian Angels to puzzled teen agers.

A moment out to answer the phone — This is Miss Maquell of the Visiting Nurses. Could you tell me the home address of the Chairman of the St. Rose of Lima Committee, Mr. M. ... is in my office, and he wants to write a note of thanks to her Committee. They have just made a fifty dollar payment toward some necessary hospital care for his four year old son, who needs special treatment."

Do you see what we mean? We may not send you pages of statistics, or convince you of the social advantages of being a Lady of Charity, but we will tell you something that will be a surprise.

This and similar projects are weekly, and, often daily, sponsored by our Committee. Frequently it is impossible to get the story of many of our practices of neighborly charity because so much is done by the individual weavers of the "Silver Crucifix."

How would you spend your last day on earth? Why not begin your reply now? The highest honor that can be paid to any Catholic Woman is the opportunity to practice Catholic Action through a manifestation of Christian love for her neighbor. Raise your eyes to the new horizons of Charity, which our Holy Father has aloft before us. Become a part of the Ladies of Charity — the ideal is a "Brotherhood with Christ, St. Vincent de Paul, and St. Louise de Marillac which is practiced in the neighborhood of all mankind."

Sailor From Corning Aboard 'Frank Knox'

Corning — Serving aboard the radar picket destroyer USS Frank Knox is William T. Mahoney, pipefitter third class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Mahoney of 95 Norman St., according to word today from the Far East.

In August, 1953, the Knox served as plane and hydro guard for fast carrier Task Force 77 as well as performing regular destroyer duties. In September she reported to Task Force 95 and patrolled the southern coast of Korea.

The ship has visited Sasebo, Korea, and Hiroshima in Japan, and Hong Kong, B.C.C.

The Knox also participated in filming of the motion picture "The Bridges of Toki-Ri."

Lenten Lecture Listed By IFCA

The Rev. Edward J. Lintz, Ph.D., moderator of the Rochester Circle, International Federation of Catholic Alumnae, will be speaker at the second of the Lenten lectures for IFCA members and friends, to be given at 8:00 P.M. on Monday, March 22 at the Catholic Women's Club, 215 Alexander St.

Father Lintz will speak on "The Spirituality of a Lay Woman."

Retiring NCCW Leader Honored

Parish Reports Reading Cleanup

Under the heading "Encouraging Reports," the Chimes, publication of St. Peter and Paul's Parish, Elmira reports on the campaign against indecent literature.

The article says: "First reports of the workers in our district in the Drive against Objectionable Literature are very encouraging. The workers were enthusiastically received by most of the storekeepers who pledged their continued support. We wish to thank all the men and women of our parish who took the first steps in this noble and worthwhile effort."

We remind our parishioners, young and old, that their cooperation in this project must be continuous and enthusiastic. We suggest that you compliment the cooperating store-keepers and let them know of your appreciation."

Dance Plans Made By Prattburg Unit

Prattburg — The Rosary and Altar Society of St. Patrick's Church, Prattburg, met in the parish hall following Lenten services on Thursday, March 11. The business meeting was called to order by the President and roll was called by the Treasurer. The Secretary's and Treasurer's reports were read and approved.

The refreshment committee for the St. Patrick's Dance on March 19 held a last-minute discussion. Sandwiches, hot dogs, homemade fried cakes, coffee, tea and milk will be served in the school cafeteria during the dance.

Refreshment committee for April meeting will be Elsie Stickney and Jeanne Roy.

Following the meeting, tea and coffee were served by Esther St. Pierre and Florence Caron. Since the meeting was held during the Holy Season of Lent, there were no other refreshments.

Owego Children Acclaimed In St. Patrick's Program

Owego — "Standing room only" was the word sent out by those in charge of admission to the St. Patrick's program, Sunday afternoon, in the St. Patrick's church hall. The participants were the children of the parochial school, who gave a delightful hour-long entertainment. The hall was filled to capacity sometime before the appointed time, 3 p.m.

Miss Jeanette Donnelly, a member of the eighth grade, announced the numbers and John Knapp acted as song leader for the community singing. Mrs. Anna Meade, church organist, was the accompanist for all musical numbers.

THE PROGRAM opened with the pupils of the fifth and sixth grades, singing "Let us All Be Irish Tonight." Mary Ellen Thompson and Gary Strauss, in pantomime, as an old Irish couple, fell asleep in their chairs and dreamed of the days when they were young and attending a St. Patrick's Day celebration. The remaining numbers on the program were the results of their dreams.

The members of the first grade sang, "Tim the Galway Piper" and this was followed by three vocal numbers by the Girls' Chorus.

One of the highlights of the afternoon was the Irish jig, as danced by Lynne Miller, of the seventh grade. The third and fourth grade students presented "Rosie O'Grady" with Michael Patrice as soloist. This number was one of those receiving the greatest applause.

The Girls' chorus sang the three more selections and the entertainment closed with the singing of "Was Only An Irishman's Dream" by the second grade pupils.

The hall was attractively decorated in keeping with St. Patrick's Day and the programs were on white paper, with an Irish green cover, shaped like an Irishman's hat.

Mrs. Mallon's Leadership Praised At NCCW Dinner

An informal testimonial dinner for Mrs. James A. Mallon was held at Mark Twain Hotel, Elmira. Mrs. Mallon is the retiring president of Elmira Deanery of the Rochester Diocesan Council of NCCW.

Discussions were held on various Deanery projects and the current activity on the Clean Literature campaign being conducted in Chemung County.

MRS. FRANCIS R. O'CONNOR, newly designated president was in charge of the program and was assisted by Miss Frances Battersby, president Ladies of Charity.

Charity, Mrs. Edward J. Wiffman, grand regent Catholic Daughters of America; Mrs. Joseph Woodhouse, vice president Elmira Deanery and Mrs. William Roberts, delegate to Rochester Diocesan Council.

Mrs. Frank Shaughnessy, past president of Rochester Deanery Council was a guest.

Ex-Corning Navy Doctor Helps In Saving Seaman

Corning — Lt. James Robert Dineen, USN, MC, son of Corning Sanitary Inspector and Mrs. James J. Dineen of 65 E. Fourth St. and a former St. Mary's Church parishioner, played an important role in a dramatic high seas adventure which resulted in saving the life of an ill seaman.

Lt. Dineen, a Navy doctor, is native of Corning and a graduate of St. Mary's School and Corning Free Academy.

The incident, similar to those which make excellent fiction and motion picture material, consisted of the transfer by a "high line" of a sailor with a ruptured appendix, from his ship to a destroyer, which had raced a part of the way with a broken rudder—300 miles to take the sick man to Honolulu. On the return trip, Lt. Dineen, a Navy doctor, attended the patient.

THE SAILOR, Ernest B. Lane, had become ill aboard the refrigerated ship, Arequpa. Radioed descriptions of his symptoms led to a diagnosis of appendicitis. His ship was ordered to rendezvous with a transport which had a doctor aboard. Caught in a rough sea, however, the Arequpa was unable to make sufficient headway.

Thereupon, the destroyer USS O'Bannon was ordered off maneuvers. It put in to Pearl Harbor on February 25, picked up Lt. Dineen, and started the trip north to rendezvous with the Arequpa. Under the pounding of its engines at 32-knot speed, the hydraulic line to the rudder snapped, causing the small ship to yaw wildly in the heavy seas. The rudder was jammed and the ship steered with the use of port and starboard engines at 20 knots until the rudder line could be welded.

At 6 a.m. the destroyer eased in beside the Arequpa and took a line from the latter vessel. A stretcher was packed with life preservers and ringed with flashlights so that it could be found in case it should be lost from the line, and the ill seaman was put into the carry. With the ships rolling—the line-slacked so much at times that the stretcher was within inches of the waves. However, the transfer was made successfully, and Lt. Dineen took over the charge of the patient.

THE DESTROYER raced back to Pearl Harbor, where the seaman, whose appendix had ruptured, was rushed to Tripler Army Hospital, where Lt. Dineen, although a Navy physician, is stationed.

Lt. Dineen, who has been in Naval service since 1942, was notified recently that he has passed part two of the examinations of the American Board of Orthopedic Surgery. He has gone to Chicago to take the special examinations. He took the initial examinations three years ago and has now completed the six years of special training.

He was educated at Washington and Jefferson College and the medical school of the University of Rochester, entering the Navy in 1942. He was graduated two years before the latter. After graduation he entered active Navy duty, which included his study of the special orthopedic work he served at the Sampson Naval Base at the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, at the Philadelphia Naval Hospital, where his orthopedic work was started in the Mediterranean for eight months, at the Children's Hospital, Boston General Hospital, and Chelsea Naval Hospital in Boston and was then ordered to Hawaii.

He is married to the former Dorothy Seger of Jamestown, a graduate nurse, whom he met at the Strong Memorial Hospital in Rochester. They have four sons, Michael, S. Robert, 7; David, 4; and Jeffrey, 1.

Miss O'Brien To Be Wed At Navy Chapel

Corning — The Navy Academy Chapel at Annapolis, Md., will be the scene of the June 5 Spring wedding of Miss Genevieve O'Brien of Corning and Midshipman Austin L. Byers of McAlester, Okla.

The engagement of the bride-elect was announced last week by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank O'Brien of 228 Denison Parkway of Corning. Midshipman Byers is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Byers of McAlester. Miss O'Brien, a graduate of St. Patrick's Parochial School and Corning Free Academy, is now employed at Ingersoll-Rand Co. in Painted Post. Her future husband attended Oklahoma A&M and is now a first classman at Annapolis.
