

Student Nurses In Marian Rite Form Living Rosary

In the spirit of the Marian Year and in honor of the Feast of the Annunciation, special services were held in the Little Flower Chapel of St. Joseph's Hospital, Elmira on Thursday, at 7:30 p.m.

The student nurses in uniform made an impressive sight as they formed the Living Rosary in the aisles of the chapel. A meditation on each of the Joyful Mysteries was read by the students, and the Congregation of Sisters of St. Joseph and guests were led in the recitation of the Rosary by the nurses. Following the Rosary, Rev. Bartholomew O'Brien, Assistant Pastor of St. Peter and Paul's Church, Elmira, talked on Our Blessed Lady. Father O'Brien reminded his listeners that Mary was given to us as our Mother on that first Good Friday. When Christ, Our Savior, hanging on the Cross gave her to us through St. John when He said to the Beloved Disciple, "Behold Thy Mother."

THE SPEAKER, referring to the painting of Our Lady of Perpetual Help in the chapel, said that the infant Jesus is tightly clasping Our Lady's Hands, signifying the trust we should have in Mary.

Father O'Brien said that the feast commemorated three great events: 1. The announcing to the Blessed Virgin that she was to become the Mother of God. 2. The Incarnation of Jesus Christ. 3. The origin of the Angelus.

Father O'Brien closed his talk by leading the congregation in the recitation of the Angelus. The service closed with Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament given by Father O'Brien. Altar boys from St. Peter and Paul's Church served as acolytes.

Nurse Caps Conferred On 18 At St. James Mercy

Hornell—Eighteen students of St. James Mercy Hospital School of Nursing received their caps at a significant ceremony Sunday in St. Ignatius Loyola Church, here.

The church was filled to the doors with relatives and friends of the students. The girls who officially completed their seven-month probationary period, passing the first milestone in the nursing profession are: Ann Aldrich, Dolores Goth, Evelyn Ivey, Jean Philbrick, Mary Sexton and Mary Jane Wilcox of Hornell; Beverly Whitney, Angela; Theresa Blanzner, Belmont; Mary Kathleen O'Brien and Helen Will, Canisteo; Margaret DeCoch, Clyde; Mary Ann Reitz, Cuba; Noreen Cassner, Danville; Catherine Horton, Elmira; Carol Ann Gilling, Orchard Park; Phyllis Lewis, Reville; Mary Schickler and Kathleen Flynn, Rochester.

The Rev. James R. Slattery, assistant pastor of St. Vincent de Paul Church in Corning and former assistant at St. Ignatius, presided at the ceremony. He said that to be a nurse is to walk with God. Father Slattery told the group, Christ, when He walked the earth, had special compassion on the sick and called those "blessed" who cared for them, he added.

He likened the day of capping to a day of dedication when the young nursing student comes to the temple of the living God and in His presence offers heart, talents and being to serving mankind.

NOBLE ASPIRATIONS are not enough in themselves to produce a nurse. Weeks of hard work and sacrifice lie ahead, the priest continued. He suggested the student adopt as a motto the words of David: "Teach me discipline, goodness and knowledge."

"The life of a nurse must abound in goodness with a full measure of self-sacrifice, patience, and a burning charity; discipline with a sense or order and mastery of emotions and knowledge for a sound foundation."

To be a nurse is to walk with God and even more, the priest concluded, "It is to walk toward God. May Mary, Comforter of the Afflicted, His sweet mother who first nursed Him, be your model in all things."

REV. LEO E. LYNCH, chaplain of St. James Mercy Hospital, presented the class. As each student's name was called, she approached the sanctuary where she was capped by Sister Mary Valerian, director of nurses, assisted by Sister Mary Anne of the school of nursing faculty.

Sister Mary Elizabeth Anne, with a large Nightingale lamp, lighted the candles in the miniature lamps carried by the students. She led them in the Florence Nightingale Pledge to maintain and elevate the high standard of the profession.

Music for the ceremony was by St. Ignatius Loyola Male Choir with James F. Clancy, director, at the organ.

SERVICES CLOSED with Solemn Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. Father Lynch was
