Hails Auxiliary At Hospital

have saved us over the years have reached large amounts. Their perseverance and fidelity to assigned tasks have been exemplary. They have become an intimate part of our hospital life and it is my hope that they will continue to work with us.

I know that with more workers we can attempt larger projects for the better health of the community. That is our concern. Besides being able to help the sick get well, we are now striving through study and scientific research to help the sick stay well.

At the St. Joseph Hospital, whose guidance our hospital has been growing since 1908, to bless your good women to aid our concerted efforts of charity. Ours is a great work, but your sharing in the burden with us will make it lighter. God bless you!

Hornell Nurses Attend Convention

Hornell—Four representatives of the Hornell unit of the National Council of Catholic Nurses attended the seventh biennial convention of the organization in Washington, D. C.

Attending from Hornell were Mrs. Ronald Arnold, Miss Mary Shea, Mrs. George Hedger, and Miss Lucille Cosgrove.

The Most Rev. Richard J. Cushing, D.D., L.L.D., Archbishop of Boston and episcopal director of the NCCN, was guest speaker at the banquet which climaxed the convention.

Speaking of "Joy," the Archbishop said "every good nurse should be a 'spring of bubbling joy' and possess the ability to impart that true spirit of happiness to the sick in her daily life."

Joy is indispensable to growth, harmony and kindly service," he said. "It makes palsy sweeter, virtue truer and labor easier."

ELMIRA CATHOLIC HIGHLIGHTS

By BOB GOLDEN

This week due to the coming exams, the news at Elmira Catholic High School is slightly lacking. This was found when asked about such matters, teachers replied in the following manner:

Sister Joachim said, "News during examinations?" Sister Mary Lourdes answer was much the same. Sister Teresa said the only news that she knew was that she was sad that the end of the year was so near.

A TRIP to the Freshman homeroom netted slightly more, however, for inside were four Fresh busy writing under the eyes of Sister Amadea. Three girls on the left of the room were pleading their case. It seems that Sue O'Brien had lost her parakeet, the night before. At Teri Guinane's request, she called Banfield Jennings to see if they had turned up the missing bird. When they happily learned that the bird was there, these two with Joan MacDonnell went to Banfield's to retrieve it.

Minstrel Show Presented By Hornell Pupils

Hornell—Pupils of St. Ann's School music department presented the second in a two-concert series Sunday evening, June 13, in the Pine Room of the school.

Entitled "Cottonwood Musical," the presentation was in form of a musical play which shows the youngsters keep up a show of interest in their musical numbers. All the regulation "props" were there—black face, loud costumes, tambourines and gags in broad dialect.

This, as well as the first recital presented a week ago, was under the direction of the Sister of Mercy of the music department.

THE FIRST recital had a widely contrasting theme. It was based on the Mother Year, now being observed internationally in commemoration of the 100th anniversary of the declaration of the dogma of the Immaculate Conception of Mary, the Mother of God.

As each participant in the first recital appeared on stage for a musical specialty, the "Blessed Mother" for the Blessed Mother before a large statue which centered the platform. Girls were in the form of flowers, stars of bells—in keeping with the musical selection to be performed.

Both recitals featured a variety of musical expression—solo, vocal solos, instrumental solos and ensembles, vocal and piano duets, vocal quartets and selections by the piecemeal instrumental, tonette and St. Ann's School bands.
