Marian Year Shrine Erected By Family In Penn Yan

Penn Yan — A beautiful shrine known as "Our Lady of the Morning Sun" to the neighborhood children has been erected on shady Cornwall St. on the edge of the village of Penn Yan by Nicholas Cincotta and his son Nickie Jr.

A blue and white flower bed which encloses the shrine was planted by Mrs. Cincotta and her three daughters, Elisa, Elizabeth and Mary Frances.

The shrine, which consists of a statue of "Our Lady of Grace" enclosed in a grotto, was begun in early spring by the Cincottas as their Marian Year project. Children often pause during their play to make a visit to the shrine, and adults stop as they pass up or down the street to admire this expression of one family's devotion to the Mother of God.

Evidence Library

50 Chestnut St., Rochester, N. Y.
By MARION R. WARNER

The Catholic Evidence Library has added to its shelves a book written by Dr. Fredric Wertham, for 20 years senior psychiatrist for the Department of Hospitals of New York City, entitled Seduction of the Innocent.

The book is being held in the library for your inspection. It is well worth perusing since it presents conclusions drawn from 12 years of scientific research on the relation between crime comics and delinquency.

It also presents studies of the effects of crime comics on the normal child's mind, and reaches the summation that crime comics bring about "moral disarmament" and the knowledge of how to commit every imaginable crime.

Since this is so, and since it is a truism that comics are here to stay, it behooves parents to see to it that their children are given the right sort of comics.

AS AN experiment, the Catholic Evidence Library is offering a new service in this line. It will sell comics published by the Catholic Guild of St. Paul, Minn. and "The Treasure Chest of Fun and Fact" published by George A. Pfann of Dayton, O.

These books range in price from 10c-25c. They are interesting and instructive. They appeal to the worthwhile emotions of children and create an atmosphere in which their minds may roam and enjoy innocent diversion.

Parents! Come to the library; buy one of these comic books for your children and make our experiment a success. Spread the knowledge of these good comics to other parents and thus do something positive to counteract the evil effects of crime comics. Other books added to the library during the past few months include: St. Thomas More by E. E. Reynolds, Saints in Hell by Gilbert Gerson, Bishop Healy, Beloved Outcast by Albert S. Foley, S.J., Last Crusade by Owen Francis Dudley, Don Camillo's Dilemma by Giovanni Guareschi.

Also, Roads To Rome edited by John A. O'Brien, The Interior Carmel by John C. H. Wu, The Royal Box by Frances Keys, All in Good Time by Gladys B. Steru and I'll Cry Tomorrow by Lillian Roth.

The Catholic Evidence Library is here to serve the people and help them solve their problems. It is located off the lobby of Columbus Civic Center and is open Monday through Friday from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m. Saturday it is open from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.
