Famed Painting Of Our Lady On View
At Benedictine Monastery, Elmira

A copy of the famed picture of Our Lady "Salus Populi Romani," to be crowned by Pope Pius XII on Nov. 1, Feast of All Saints, in Rome, can be found in the Diocese of Rochester.

The copy hangs in the chapel of Our Lady Queen of Peace at the Benedictine monastery of Mount Saviour, Madigan Road off Hendy Hollow Road, outside Elmira.

HIS EXCELLENCY Bishop Kearney formally hung the picture in the first chapel when he blessed the monastery and broke ground for the new chapel on the Feast of the Transfiguration, Aug. 6, 1951. Since the completion of the new chapel the picture has been transferred there and now hangs behind the choir.

The Benedictine monks have great devotion to "Our Lady of Rome" and attribute to her many graces and favors to her intercession. They pointed out, this week, that the icon of Our Lady "Salus Populi Romani" is a favorite representation of Our Lady for the people of Rome.

The picture is so ancient that its painting has been traditionally attributed to St. Luke. It had enjoyed great popularity in the Sixth Century.

Pope Gregory the Great carried it in procession through the streets of Rome imploring the intercession of the Blessed Virgin against the pestilence. The present Pontiff, Pope Pius XII especially devoted to Our Lady "Salus Populi Romani" and her icon, celebrated his first Mass before it.

In his Encyclical announcing the Marian Year "Fulgens Corona," the Pope made special reference to this representation of the Blessed Virgin and designated it the official Marian Year picture when he visited it at the beginning of this year in her honor in the Basilica of St. Mary Major where it hangs.

ANOTHER MARIAN shrine, that of Our Lady Queen of Peace is in the crypt of the Mount Saviour chapel. There in the center of the octagonal chapel is the beautiful statue of the Blessed Virgin which was donated to the monastery. It dates from the end of the 13th or, at the latest, the beginning of the 14th Century.

The statue which is of stone, about 5 1/2 feet high, was carved by an unknown sculptor in Paris or somewhere in the area surrounding that city. It is considered one of the finest examples in this country.

TO THIS SHRINE many come on pilgrimage, both individually and in groups. On Sunday, September 12th, there came a pilgrimage of 150 people from the parish of Our Lady of The Lake in Watkins Glen, led by their pastor, Father Benedict Phelan.

In the near future, the Catholic Women's Club of Bath will make a pilgrimage to the Shrine of Our Lady Queen of Peace.

Surrounding the shrine are six altars all dedicated to Our Lady under the titles: Queen of Angels, Queen of Patriarchs and Prophets, Queen of Apostles, Queen of Martyrs, Queen of Confessors and Queen of Virgins.

EVERY NIGHT following Compline, the night prayer of the Church, the monks, retreatants and visitors go from the upper church in procession to the shrine where they sing the "Salve Regina" and say the Angelus while the bell in the steeple is rung.

With these devotions to Our Blessed Lady they conclude their day. The day also begins with a salutation to Our Lady Queen of Peace as each monk passes her shrine on his way to Vigils at four o'clock in the morning.

THE UNUSUAL and beautiful octagonal chapel contains several other works of art which have been donated to the monastery. In the Blessed Sacrament Chapel there is a painting of the Crucifixion and Saints, of the AVIGNON School in France, dating from the 14th Century, and a Coptic Panel on the front of the altar from Egypt, probably 1000 years old.

Behind the choir also hangs a large crucifix of Spanish Colonial design, dating from the 17th Century. In the crypt at the altar of Our Lady Queen of Virgins is an antique Spanish crucifix of great beauty.

The altar in the chapel is in the center, with the monks having their places on one side and the congregation on the other, so that all surround it for the celebration of Holy Mass.

EXTERIOR VIEW of the Benedictine Monastery chapel high on a prominence commanding a striking view of the country near Elmira on Madigan Road. Designed by Joseph Sanford Stanley of New York, the chapel is imposing and a place to see when in Elmira neighborhood.

Free Bible Decision Refused Court Review

Washington, D. C.—(NC)—The Supreme Court has refused to review a decision banning the distribution of Bibles to children in the public schools of New Jersey.

The unanimous decision was given earlier by the New Jersey Supreme Court in a case involving the Gideons International and their move to give the King James (Protestant) version of the Bible to be given to children whose parents signed requests.

The New Jersey ruling said that to allow distribution would be renewing the ancient struggle against the distribution and the among the various religious faiths to the detriment of all.

THE CASE originated in Ruthersford, N. J., when the Gideons secured the local school board's approval of the distribution. The Bibles were to be given to children whose parents signed requests.

A Jewish parent, Bernard Tudor, obtained an injunction against the distribution and the among the various religious faiths to the detriment of all.
