Holy Cross

A total of $236,572.50 was pledged in the Holy Cross Parish expansion building fund drive to enlarge the convent and school, the Rev. J. Joseph O'Connell, pastor, announced today.

The campaign conducted in October had a goal of $225,000. Workers turned in $11,752.50 above the goal.

ARCHITECTS ARE now working on plans for enlarging of school and convent and shortly after the first of the New Year construction will begin, Father O'Connell said.

The architects plans for the new additions show a modern design, one that will enhance the beauty of the present structures and make Holy Cross one of the outstanding parishes of the diocese.

Father O'Connell was honorary chairman of the campaign with the Rev. John P. O'Malley and the Rev. William L. Reed, assistant pastors, as vice chairmen.

Parish workers were headed by George B. Wheelahan, general chairman; advance gifts, Edward H. Carson, chairman; and William J. Hickey, vice chairman; general solicitors, Al. A. Leland, chairman and Anthony J. Agostinelli, vice chairman.

Tuesday, Nov. 9 — 5 p.m. - 10 p.m.

Trustees, Faculty, and Students, extend an invitation to parishioners of all the diocesan churches to Open House, Tuesday evening, November 9, from 5 p.m. to 10 p.m. Opportunity will be given to visit all departments of the college, as well as the library, student rooms, cafeteria and auditorium. Laboratories and classrooms will be open and heads of departments will be available to answer questions and give information.

At 8:30 p.m. on Tuesday evening, a symposium on the place of the college in American Education will be presented in the college auditorium under the chairmanship of the Rev. William H. Shannon, chaplain and professor of Theology at the college.

In this program the religious faculty will be represented by Sister St. Catherine, Dean of Studies; the lay faculty by Miss Rosemary White, Professor of English; the Alumnae by Miss Alice Foley, principal of Brighton No. 1 elementary school; and the Students by Miss Mary Deane, senior sociology major from Geneva.

Following the symposium on next Tuesday evening, there will be a coffee hour in the newly decorated cafeteria, where luncheon is served to all students daily.

NAZARETH COLLEGE students receive during their four years of college adequate preparation for entry positions in Teaching, Social Work, Nursing, Laboratory work in industry or the medical field, and Business. These are the fields most popular with women, and those where more than 75% of all women workers are employed.

In addition to the regular courses of instruction, students participate in field work. Senior Sociology majors spend Tuesday of each week in orientation visits to the various social agencies in Rochester and western New York. Directors of the institutions explain the aims and functions of their work to the students who have the opportunity of observing first-hand the operation of the institutions. They also have a full month of supervised field practice in a Rochester social agency.

Senior education students — majors in various academic and special subjects, such as Art, Music, Business — likewise spend Tuesday mornings in observation of classes at various public and parochial schools. They also have a block of cadet teaching from Thanksgiving to Christmas.

BIOLOGY majors who plan to become Medical Technologists spend the twelve months after their junior year at St. Joseph's Hospital in Elmira in clinical training, which qualifies them for the examination for Medical Technologists, conducted by the American Society of Clinical Pathologists.

Business students are encouraged to obtain part-time and summer employment in their chosen field and are assisted in obtaining such positions by the Placement Bureau of the College.

Social life at Nazareth College is conducted through various types of extra-curricular activities. Students are given the opportunity for experience in organization, cooperation, and leadership as a preparation of life.

Nearness to St. John Fisher College for men is a real advantage in planning social events, as well as other cooperative activities. The Soph Hop which is scheduled for Friday, Nov. 5 will be preceded by a Nazareth-St. John Fisher card party in the attractively refurbished Social Room in the Administration Building.

Joint Sociality meetings and meetings of the National Federation of Catholic College Students commissions are also examples of this type of cooperation.

Extra-curricular program of Nazareth includes a dances and seasonal parties such as Halloween, Christmas and St. Patrick's. Also out-door activities, including cabin parties, picnics, sports nights, and a monthly recreation program for the resident students.

A SPECIAL lecture program has been scheduled this year, including such noted speakers as Sir Arnold Lunn, English convert-writer on November 15; U. S. Congressman Kenneth B. Keating; Dr. Aaron Abel, Professor of History at Notre Dame University; Charles Brady, Professor of English and author of "Stage of Fools" and Richard, Pattee who will speak in the spring on Latin America and Communist infiltration.

Music plays an important part in the college program. In addition to the regular Music course, which prepares public school music teachers, the college boasts a fine Glee Club under the direction of Mr. J. Theodore Hollenbach. Beside singing at various college functions, the Glee Club presents a spring concert each year — this year on March 17 — and also sings with the Rochester Oratorio Society on special occasions. On April 3 all the students will attend the production of "Each" Mass in B Minor at the Eastman Theatre.

CLOSE RIVAL to the Music Department in popularity is the Fine Arts department, which prepares public school teachers for both the elementary and secondary schools, as well as fashion illustrators and lay-out artists. Each year the seniors schedule an exhibit which attracts wide attention.

The record of the placement of Nazareth College graduates has been an outstanding one. For many years Nazareth has recognized the modern woman's need of specific preparation for professional and business life. Nazareth graduates are teaching in most of the public schools in Rochester and the surrounding area. Due to the critical shortage of teachers, especially in the elementary field the past few years, but now extending to the secondary schools as well, Nazareth graduates have been able to obtain teaching positions.

In 1954 at least 6 teaching jobs were available for each senior who wanted to teach immediately on graduation.

A substantial number of those who preferred elementary teaching have enrolled during the past six years in the summer program offered to Liberal Arts graduates by the State Teachers College which qualifies them for a Master's degree in elementary education. Under this plan they accept a position on graduation and begin their summer work immediately, continuing each summer, usually three or four, until they receive their degree.

NAZARETH ALUMNAE are working in all of the social agencies in Rochester and several now hold responsible positions in the New York State Conference of Social Work, as well as in other states. In Puerto Rico, in South America and in Europe.

All of the hospitals in Rochester employ graduates of Nazareth College as nurses, and as medical technologists.

Science Alumnae are found in medical research, in nursing schools as instructors, and in industry, wherever women scientists are in demand in this area.

Practically all of Rochester's large industries and business organizations, as well as many small business and professional offices employ graduates of the Business Department.

The following tabulation of placement for the five-year period ending in 1953 shows the percentage of Nazareth
