Bishop Casey Keynotes Drives For Two Parochial Schools

His Excellency, Auxiliary Lawrence B. Casey this week launches two campaigns to expand parochial schools in the Rochester suburban area.

Parishioners of St. John's Church, Spencerport, launched a fund campaign at a dinner meeting Wed., Dec. 1, to build a new parochial school in that village.

Bishop Casey recalled in the principal address that the present 87 year old building has been condemned and is greatly overcrowded. First and second grades are conducted in the hall, so that construction of an adequate building is an absolute necessity.

"The result of a new school," the Bishop stated, "would be more effective teaching, it would attract more pupils, and it will provide needed lunch room facilities."

Rev. Francis E. Hester, pastor, said that the proposed structure will contain six classrooms and a hall which will serve for parish activities and a youth program. Bishop Casey paid tribute to the zeal of Father Hester and cited the advantages of a full parochial school education over a mere released time program.

Estimated cost of the new unit will be $175,000, and minimum objective is a day's wage a month for thirty months from every wage-earner in the parish.

At St. John's parish in Greece, N. Y., Bishop Casey is scheduled to be principal speaker at the Opening Campaign dinner there on Saturday evening. Rev. Donald E. Lux, pastor, announces that over three hundred men are set to canvass the parish to raise $175,000 for a needed eight-room addition to the parochial school there. Already over 750 children are in attendance at the Greece school, and the total is expected to go over the 1,000 mark within three years.

Clothing Drive Increase Seen

Sixteen parishes of the diocese have made their reports to the Rev. E. Leo McManus, director of the Thanksgiving Clothing Collection. A general increase of over 30 per cent has been marked in these first reports, and, according to Father McManus, this trend would indicate that up to seventy-five tons of relief clothing is expected to be sent from this diocese to the world's needy.

This represents at least ten tons more than was sent last year.

A complete report will be published in the Courier-Journal listing individual parish contributions as soon as these are submitted to the diocesan director.

First Friday Club Meets At Sheraton

Members of the First Friday Lunch Club will meet on Friday, Dec. 3 at 12:15 noon in the Hotel Sheraton.

Guest speaker will be His Excellency, Bishop James E. Kearney. Lawrence V. Driscoll is chairman and the Rev. Raymond G. Heisel is moderator of the group. Meeting will close promptly at 1:15 p.m.

Looking on at left is George Annas, vice president of the mission unit. The school's Mission Day on Nov. 19 netted $4,000 for worldwide mission organization.

Mercy Students Donate $6,500 To Missions

A flood of checks totalling $6,500 to twenty-five scattered missionaries and religious groups in the U. S. and abroad flowed out of Our Lady of Mercy High School this week as school officials divided the net profits from Mission Day held November 19.

A GROSS income of $8,250, the highest in the school's history, was achieved with a one-day bazaar, afternoon and evening performances of a student musical comedy, "Beautiful Dreamer", and a guessing contest on a mission theme.

Leading beneficiaries were the Carmelite Sisters of Rochester for the new monastery building fund, the Maryknoll Sisters for a new cloister building at Maryknoll, N. Y., Bishop Fulton J. Sheen for the missions of the Holy Father, and the new novitiate building fund of the Sisters of Mercy of Rochester.

OTHER LARGE checks were sent to Our Lady of Lourdes Indian Mission School, South Dakota, Bishop Joseph Bowers, S. V. D. of Africa and Archbishop of Malabar, for the education of a native priest of India.

The Italian Fathers at Silver Spring, Md., received their annual check for Mercy's adopted seminarian who will be ordained in June. The results, Columbus Markets and Society of Divine Word were also recipients of Mission Day checks.
