Congratulations To Poster Winners

Argentine Counselor Resigns Posts

Washington — (NC) — Dr. Cesar Bunge y Alvarez Calderon resigned as economic counsel of the Argentine Embassy and as president of the Inter-American Economic and Social Council.

He said that his resignation came because he was "in total disagreement" with the Peron government. He indicated he would probably travel to Peru, where, it is known, he has relatives.

Mission Scenerama Poster Contest Awards Go To 3

Three Catholic girls' high school students were officially announced winners of the Poster Contest for the Mission Scenerama by Very Rev. Msgr. John S. Randall, Director and Louis A. Langie, Program Committee Chairman, this week.

Winners are: Jean McGahan, Nazareth Academy, of 74 Woodlawn St., first prize; Nancy Jean Gallagher, Our Lady of Mercy High School, of 296 Yarmouth Road, second prize; and Elizabeth Studier, Nazareth Academy, 3270 Edgemere Drive, third prize.

Receiving honorable mention are: Kittie Haggerty, Carol McEneany, Sandra Schlegel and Margaret Fay Stark, all of Our Lady of Mercy High School and Gene Santucci of Aquinas Institute.

PURPOSE OF the contest was to get an official poster for the Mission Scenerama scheduled for the Rochester War Memorial, Oct. 16 through 23. The contest was conducted in the high schools and colleges of the Diocese of Rochester.

Judges were: Mrs. Homer Bliss, chairman, Richard Ely and Grace Tomaselli.

The Mission Scenerama will be an exhibition of major proportions bringing missionaries to Rochester from all over the world. A total of 250,000 persons are expected to attend.

Nazareth Summer Session Opens At Womens College

Nazareth College Summer Session will open at the East Ave. women's campus on Tuesday, July 5 and continue for six weeks to Aug. 12. Registration will be held on July 5 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., according to Sister Rose Angela, dean.

Included in the offerings are Elementary Teacher Education Courses open to religious teachers from the parochial schools. Sisters from various parts of New York State, Ohio, Vermont, Connecticut, New Jersey, and West Virginia, will be living on campus during the summer.

Courses in Latin, French, English, History, Business, Music, Science and Ethics will be offered in the Undergraduate Department.

GRADUATE courses include: Educational Measurement, Milton, The Pre-Raphaelites, History of the American Frontier, America's Urban Civilization, Psychology of Music, Contemporary Trends in Music Education and Analytical Technic in Music.

To meet the need for part-time school librarians, Nazareth is offering a two-summer sequence of library courses. Candidates for entrance to these courses must be graduates of a college or teacher-training institution.

This summer, courses offered include: Library Materials for Children, Book and Non-Book, and School Libraries — their Function and Administration.

All courses except the Elementary Teacher Education courses are open to lay persons as well as religious.

Doctors Urged To Probe Birth Control, Insanity Link

Tokyo —(NC)— An appeal to medical schools and research workers to study the relationship between the growing use of birth control methods and the rising rate of insanity and other diseases in Japan has been urged here by Father William A. Kaschmitter, M.M. editor of Tosei News.

The Maryknoll priest commented on an editorial in Mainichi, one of Japan's largest dailies (nearly 4,000,000 circulation). Mainichi noted that many large Japanese companies are fostering birth control among their workers and that labor unions are cooperating in the campaign.

One of the reasons for the birth control campaign, Mainichi said, is the fact that abortions in Japan are now estimated at 2,000,000 a year, while another argument advanced is that birth control is "a basic solution of the population problem, the greatest problem faced by Japan today."

Chief Justice White Statue In Capitol

Washington — (NC) — The statue of Edward Douglas White, Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court from 1910 to 1921, was presented to the U.S. Government at ceremonies in the rotunda of the Capitol building here.

The bronze statue is Louisiana's second memorial in the Capital. Each State is allowed two. It was executed by Arthur C. Morgan, a Louisiana sculptor.

Chief Justice White was the second Catholic to hold the high judicial post in the nation. The first was Roger B. Taney of Maryland, was was Chief Justice from 1836 to 1864.

Nazareth College Alumna, Husband, Author Current 'Book Of The Month'

"Pierre Toussaint," a biography written by a Nazareth College graduate and her husband, has been cited in the July issue of Catholic Digest as the book of the month. The authors are Arthur and Elizabeth Odell Sheehan.

MRS. SHEEHAN was born in Watertown in 1919. After graduating from Immaculate Heart Academy there, she earned her A.B. at Nazareth College and took graduate courses in philosophy at the Catholic University of America.

Prior to her marriage in 1947, she was a member of the public relations staff of the National Catholic Community Service in Washington and wrote articles for many magazines. She edited the monthly NCCS bulletin and prepared material for the Encyclopedia Britannica Yearbook and the National Catholic Almanac. She is the mother of two daughters, aged two and five.

Mr. Sheehan, a writer of newspaper and syndicate features and of many magazine articles, is director of CARE's film publicity. He was born in 1909 at St. John, New Brunswick, Canada and was educated at local school and at St. Mary College, Halifax.

TWO ATTEMPTS to follow seminary life resulted in breakdowns of health. After a period of recuperation in Denver, he devoted himself for several years to the Catholic Worker Movement and a New England experiment in rural living.

Arriving in New York in 1940, he was named National Director of the Catholic Civilian Public Service. He edited The Catholic Worker for one year and worked for the Associated Press. He founded the CARE Credit Union and was its president for six years.

A minimum of 10,000 copies of "Pierre Toussaint" will be sold to the Catholic Digest book of the month club alone. It is published by P. J. Kenedy and Sons and will also be published by Harvell Press of London.

The Sign and Books On Trial magazines are running page length ads on the book and will carry reviews. Courier-Journal review will be found on page 4 of this issue.

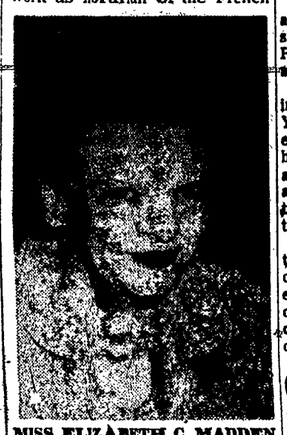
Toussaint was the Negro slave who captured New York "with a love that was stronger than race." Legends grew around Toussaint, born a slave in Haiti, whose life of charity to all men overcame the barriers of color a century ago and made him one of the most honored personages in early New York.

Miss Elizabeth C. Madden

Given High French Honor, Writes History Of Academy

Miss Elizabeth C. Madden, a parishioner of Blessed Sacrament Church, Rochester received yesterday the "Officier d'Academie", a high honor from the French government.

The award, given in Rundel Memorial Building, was bestowed by M. Paul J. Speyser, representing the French consul general, in recognition of Miss Madden's work as librarian of the French



MISS ELIZABETH C. MADDEN

Institute in New York City. Miss Madden held the post from 1948 to 1952.

Now retired, the former librarian is presently working on a history of Rochester's Academy of the Sacred Heart, which marks its centennial this year. Miss Madden was taught by the Religious of the Sacred Heart at their academy in Boston.

Daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Madden, Rochester, she received her degree in library science from Simmons College and did graduate work at the Sorbonne, Paris and the University of Grenoble.

Miss Madden's library work also included several years on the staff of the American Library in Paris, where after World War II she served as head librarian.

In addition to work in libraries in New Jersey and at the New York Public Library, she was employed during World War II by the Office of War Information, and after the liberation of Paris, a librarian of the U. S. Information Library in the French capital.

Miss Madden is a member of the alumnae association of Sacred Heart Academy, the Rochester Simmons Club, a member of Blessed Sacrament Rosary Society and the local Alliance Francais.

City Erects Statue To Sacred Heart

Potosi, Bolivia—(NC)—A massive statue of the Sacred Heart is scheduled to be publicly unveiled next November on the summit of Cerro Chico, which overlooks this city. It will mark the fulfillment of a promise made by the people of the city in 1934, when they prayed for an end to the Chaco war between Bolivia and Paraguay.

The statue is 13 feet high and one of the largest erected to the Sacred Heart in Latin America.
