Aquinas Grid Squad Preps For Opener

The 1955 Edition of Aquinas Famed "Little Irish" football team, looked in good shape today after a week and a half of practice.

In their first scrimmage session on Monday the boys looked impressive.

One of the brightest things that Coach "Hunk" Vadas has to look forward to is the remarkable play of senior Tom Riley. Tom played as an end for a part of the season last year, but because of an injury he was forced to sit out most of the 'games. This year, he has showed remarkable ability not only as an end but also as a quarterback, halfback and a fullback as well.

Another boy who has looked sharp in the early sessions is Ben Quamina, who also played basketball for Aquinas.

With less than three weeks to go before the season's opener against North Catholic High of Pittsburgh, all the Aquinas team, coaches, players, managers and alike must devote their full attention, to help keep alive Aquinas' record of never losing an opening game.
