

Cloistered Nuns To Broadcast

West Springfield, Mass.—(NC) The choir of the cloistered Passionist nuns at Dunmore, Pa. will be heard on "The Hour of the Crucified" radio program for October 30.

Father Fidelis Rice, C.P., director of the weekly program, said Bishop Jerome Hannan of Scranton has given special permission for the first broadcast by the nuns. The half-hour tape recorded program is carried by about 200 stations in the United States, Canada and Panama.

Crowds See Drama Of Mission World At War Memorial

A detachment of airmen from Sampson Air Force Base preceded their color guard into the auditorium, followed by 22 priests of the Rochester Diocese who served as chaplains during World War II.

EIGHT CATHOLIC War Veterans carrying lighted candles formed a personal escort for Monsignor Ryan and served as acolytes during the Mass.

Before the Mass, Mayor Peter Barry, a Navy veteran of World War II, reminded the assembly that the new Memorial was dedicated to the community's veterans and war dead.

THE REVEREND Terence P. Finnegan, deputy chief of Air Force Chaplains, warned in his sermon that the West is surrounded by people who either hate or do not know God.

Prelate Compares Beauty Contests To Cattle Shows

Melbourne—(BNS) — Archbishop Daniel Mannix of Melbourne called upon Catholic girls to shun bathing beauty contests which he said are like "the parades of prize cattle" seen at a livestock show.

Such contests, he told the 8th annual convention here of the National Catholic Girls Movement, are promoted for commercial interests and are aimed "not at elevating women but at using them to make money by a vulgar display of the human body."
