Father Burns Addresses Clifton Springs Banquet

Clifton Springs — The Rev. Francis Burns of Rochester, as speaker at the annual banquet of St. Felix Church Rosary and Altar Society, last week, presented to the group a comprehensive picture of the program in the Rochester Diocese to care for homeless and problem children has changed completely in recent years he said, and spoke specifically of St. Joseph Villa in Rochester where 24 children assigned to each home can receive more individual and loving care by the Sisters in a homelike atmosphere. He contrasted this program to the orphanages of earlier years with hundreds of children when the program was of necessity more of a regimentation atmosphere.

FATHER BURNS, professor of Moral Theology and Sociology at St. Bernard Seminary, was introduced by the Rev. Emmett T. Dougherty, a former classmate of the speaker at St. Bernard and now pastor at St. Felix.

Father Dougherty spoke briefly commending the ladies of the Rosary and Altar Society for their work in the church and their devotion to the Rosary of the Blessed Mother. He urged the mothers to provide their children with a Rosary and teach them its prayers and litanies.

Miss Mary Louise Connolly, president, welcomed the 91 persons assembled for the banquet at the Town Pump Restaurant, Orleans. Mrs. James Sommers was toastmistress for the occasion and Mrs. Claude Goodman served as song leader.

Mrs. Mary Flack of Rochester, long-time resident of Clifton Springs and member of the society who recently left here to reside at St. Ann Home in Rochester, was an honored guest at the banquet.

Bishop Keynotes Fund Drive

HIS EXCELLENCY Auxiliary Bishop Casey addresses more than 200 men of St. Anthony of Padua Church, Rochester, at a kickoff dinner in Lorenzo's Restaurant on Oct. 29 for the parishwide drive for $150,000 toward erection of a new parish church and school. From left in photo are John Di Gaetano, co-chairman of the general campaign committee, the Rev. Michael J. Tydings, pastor of St. Anthony's; Bishop Casey; and Peter De Lucia, special gifts committee chairman. Already reported well over the quota, the campaigners this week were climaxed the drive, for which the final report will be made next week.

Dr. Ben Duffy Honored At Hospital Clinic Day

Presentation of a plaque bearing this inscription and beneath it the name of Dr. Ben Duffy Sr. was the highlight of a dinner Oct. 27 in Hotel Sheraton, concluding the second annual St. Mary Hospital Clinic Day.

The testimonial award, recognizing the well-known physician's 40-year contribution to local medicine, was made by Dr. Leo LaPalm, chief of medicine, on behalf of the hospital staff. It is to be displayed prominently in the hospital lobby.

Reviewing Dr. Duffy's achievements in medicine, Dr. LaPalm injected biographical notes reflecting the recipient's skill, kindness, forthrightness and judgment. "A personal greeting from Sister Martina, administrator of St. Mary Hospital and the physician's close friend of many years, also was read to Dr. Duffy, characterizing as 'Christ-like' his approach and dedication to medical practice.

The dinner, attended by over 300 staff physicians, wives and guests, was preceded by morning and afternoon clinical sessions at the hospital. Prominent laymen participating in the program were Daniel E. Macken, Rochester attorney, and the Hon. Kenneth B. Keating, Republican congressional representative for the 38th District.

Morning sessions, with Dr. John Abbott presiding, included papers by Dr. J. William Quinlan concerning Diabetes in Office Practice and Dr. Karl Lowy on surgical advances in Handling of the Deaf Patient. Dr. John Beltner, discussed treatment of a recently-recognized aspect of shoulder pain; and Dr. Walter Maxwell presented several patients cured or greatly benefited by radical head and neck surgery.

A clinic-pathologic conference, conducted by Dr. Charles Rath, assistant professor of medicine and director of hematology laboratory at Georgetown University School of Medicine, closed the afternoon meeting. Dr. Ben Duffy Jr., presided.

General chairman of the Clinic Day program was Dr. John Kammer.

Stein's Opens New Clothing Store To Serve Men Shopping Downtown

Stein's Clothiers opened a new clothing store at 20 St. Paul St., one block from Main St. yesterday, continuing its custom of selling only suits, topcoats, sports coats and slacks.

Stein's, the largest retail men's clothing chain store organization in the United States devoted entirely to the manufacture of and distribution of men's clothing, presently operates stores in 75 cities throughout the country.

THE FIRM manufactures all its own clothing and sells only through their own stores. Sales are cash only and there are no deliveries, thus enabling the company to charge lower prices.

Stein's prices are uniform throughout the country, according to a spokesman, and a $34.95 suit at Stein's is equal to the average $50 or $55 suit sold by independent retailers.

Alterations are free. The store also features a large stock on display so that customers may compare various suits and colors.

A spokesman added that "Stein's" current modernization and expansion program is reflected in greatly approved appearance and quality of merchandise.

Stein's new store is airy, bright and convenient.

Memorial Service Set At Holy Family

Rosary Society of Holy Family Church will hold a memorial service in the church followed by a meeting and election of officers in the Fine Room on Wednesday, Nov. 9.

Mrs. Donald Pickering is chair-lady assisted by the Mesdames Harry Clar, August DeBree, Frank Gross, Allen House, Joseph Maler, Joseph Miller, Charles McQueen, Clement Stahl, Joseph Weidman, Joseph Will, Raymond Winnick and the Misses Edna Friday, Ruth Friday and Mary Reber.
