International Relations Workshop To Be Held

Delegates from nine colleges were invited to attend a Regional Workshop on International Relations to be held at Nazareth College on Sunday, March 4 from 1 to 5:30 p.m.

The topic of the Workshop will be the "Ethical Solution to the Problem of Colonization in Israel."

The program will begin with the presentation of background material on the topic by one speaker from each school. Possible solutions to the problem will be suggested. Group discussions will be held. A final general meeting will formulate a definite resolution in regard to the problem

GENERAL CHAIRMAN is Joan Mans, senior. Discussion Chairman is Elizabeth Boyle, freshman. Speakers from Nazareth are: Agnes Kellner, junior; Kathleen Hiney, junior; Kathleen Gordon, freshman and Shirley Scuteri, sophomore.

Margaret Frisch, senior, is in charge of arrangements. Mary McGowan, senior will take care of refreshments and Mary Ann Barletta invitations.

Schools represented will include: Villa Maria College, Mercyhurst College and Gannon College, Erie; Canisius, Rosary Hill and D'Youville Colleges, Buffalo; and St. Bonaventure University, St. Bonaventure, New York.

All the colleges participating have International Relations Clubs and are in the Lake Erie Region of the National Federation of Catholic College Students.

How Much Can You Eat At Lenten Fast Meals?

Lenten Regulations allow us one full meal each day and "two other meatless meals, sufficient to maintain strength." No exact limit is put on these meals, except that "together they should not equal another full meal." Meals which fulfill this spirit are pictured here. 'Ten Commandments' For Everyone

By Mary Lennon Snyder

The other day on a visit to Mt. Carmel High School I was very interested to read a Ten Commandments for the School Children posted on the bulletin board in the main corridor. Because I believe that there may be many readers of this column who might be interested in these and be inspired by them I asked one of my young friends at the school to copy the list for me. So today we are indebted to Mary Ann Cubito for supplying us with the following:

Mrs. Snyder

1. Love your schoolmates; they will be your companions for life and work.
2. Love instruction, the food of the spirit. Be thankful to your teachers as to your own parents.
3. Consecrate every day by one good useful deed and kindness.
4. Honor all honest people; esteem men but humble yourself before no man.
5. Suppress all hatred and beware of insulting your neighbor; be not revengeful but protect your own rights and those of others. Love justice and bear pain and misfortune courageously.
6. Observe carefully and reflect well in order to get at the truth. Deceive not yourself or others and beware of lying, for lies destroy the heart, the soul, and the character. Suppress passions and radiate love and peace.
7. Consider that animals also have a right to your sympathy and do not harm them or tease
8. Think that all good is the result of work; he who enjoys without working is stealing the bread from the mouth of the worker.
9. Call no man a patriot who hates or has contempt for other nations, or who wishes and approves wars. War is the remains of barbarism.
10. Love your country and your nation but be co-workers in the high task that will make man live together like brothers in peace and happiness.

Undeniably these are thought provoking. Furthermore a few minute's spent in re-reading them will make one realize that with a substitution of a word or two these "commandments" are as meaningful to those of us who have been out of school for many years as they are for today's students.

Each one of us can adopt these to our own plan of life. For example in the third rule, I would prefer to read instead of the thought of consecrating every day by one good useful deed and kindness, to offer every moment of our living to Almighty God through the immaculate hands of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

These ten commandments for school children were, I suspect, drawn up for all children in all schools. However, whoever wrote them, they are worthy of our consideration and I suggest clipping these and putting them on the family bulletin board or in some prominent place in the home where all the members will see them and read them.

Vocation of a Poet

Years ago I heard a message
That the Lord God spoke to me:
"I have blessed you with a
poet's heart
And poet's eyes to see"

"You must write to give Me glory
I have seeds for you to sow;
I Myself will send the sun and rain
To make the flowers grow."

O, I felt like Jeremias
As he stammered out, dismayed:
"Ah . . ah . . ah . . Lord God,
I cannot speak!
I am a child — afraid!"

Yet I listened for His Whisp'rings,
And I copied down His Words—
But the fumblings are my own—
and the Successes are the Lord's!
